Alderman Hollis criticized the report of the Finance committee that it was inexpedient to create an additional sergeant of police but he was alone in his opposition. The committee also reported that it was inexpedient to rearrange the salaries in the Engineering Dept. Soldiers' Relief of $10 a week was allowed Christine A. Sullivan.

Alderman Whidden said that his Alderman Whidden said that his committee tentatively favored a site for an incinerator near the cement shed on Lewis terrace and a public hearing was ordered on the matter at the next meeting.

Alderman Whidden was highly praised by Alderman Angier for his work in connection with proposed issue, was approved.

Alderman Forknall expressed some criticism of the action of the Finance committee in raising the report of his committee from $22,000 to $27,000 for work on South Meadow brook, but the order was passed unanimously.

The action of the Finance committee in reducing the Public Works report for $2965 for curbing on Cook street to $1965 was sharply criticized by Alderman Forknall who said that the difference in amount meant that concrete would be used for curb instead (Continued on Page 2)

STILL WINNING

Newton High improved its position in the Suburban League Wednesday, when it defeated Cambridge Latin, 3 to 2, in one of the best games of the school season at Newtonville.

Newton was fortunate to win, for Cambridge Latin made a great rally in the eighth, scoring two runs. Capt. Fred Sawyer pitched good ball; only four hits being made off his delivery.

Elaborate plans are being rapidly perfected to make the All Newton Welcome Home Celebration to the boys of this city who have been in the service of their country, an affair long to be remembered.

People equal rights with the rest of the population of each and every country, and the demand that the protection of these rights shall be assured of at all times by the proposed League of Nations, must not be abated.

Jewish people have been shamefully persecuted and systematically slaughtered by terrible pogroms in the small independencies which have arisen within the last year. These independencies have not fulfilled their obligation to protet the civic rights of their Jewish residents.

Only last week the sight of 25,000 Jews marching thru the streets of Boston in dignified protest at the atrocities in Poland and elsewhere showed how deeply our Jewish fellow citizens hope that religious discrimination will be abandoned. At a recent meeting, in Boston, of the "Jews of America," a resolution was adopted as follows: "to secure for Jews equal, civil, religious, political, and economic rights and opportunities in all countries of the world; to ask financial assistance for the Jews in Poland, Roumania and Palestine who have been objects of attacks and who have not received their proportionate share of help."

Alderman Hollis said that something was evidently the trouble in this office and it was the duty of the board to find out what it was. He wanted a special committee to investigate but could get no second to his motion. Alderman Blake said there was no need of any investigation and warmly praised the work of the Comptroller and favored even larger appropriations if necessary. The order was then passed, Mr. Hollis voting No.

The Finance committee presented a hot report on the matter of architects commissions for work on the school buildings required by the State Police. This bill, was improperly incurred and the city not legally liable. In view of the fact that the board had yoted $25,000 for a part of this work, the committee favored a payment of 6% commission on the work so authorized.

There was also a debate upon the report of the License committee favored in a gasolene filling station by the Jenny Mfg. Co. in Nonantum square. opposite the Fire station. It was opposed by Aldermen Goodwin, Kendrick, and Heathcote and favored by Alderman Hollis, Carter. Clement, Whidden and McAuslan and finally granted by a vote of 15 to 6.

The Liberty Motor Mart was granted a gasolene permit for 1000 gallons at 1203 Washington street and Walnut street and the Tel. Co. and Edison Co. a joint pole on Ricker road.

The board adjourned at 10.55.

To the Editor:

To the Editor:—

A letter received by me from an architect is especially worthy of consideration as it reflects a view probably held by some others. Referring to the widely approved idea of a memorial on Claffin Field in which, with a memorial portice and shrine, there should be associated a citizens' hall of physical training, a center for community welfare societies, and a civic munity welfare societies, and a civic auditorium, the writer says:—

auditorium, the writer says:—
"We should have such a building in Newton, along the lines mentioned in your circular, and it would fill a great need, but I believe it is wrong to call such a building a memorial.

A memorial should be in the fullest sense of the word a memorial, and nothing else."

This seems to assume that a memorial in the best sense can be nothing but some material thing, expressing but some material thing, expressing some ideal with beauty or strength, but essentially devoid of utility. Gravestones are such; and, ignoring their incidental utilities, so are the Pyramids, the Lion of Lucerne, the Bunker Hill Monument, the Statue of Liberty, the Shaw Memorial. Although these are national monuments, perhaps beyond the power of a local perhaps beyond the power of a loca community to command, the serve as types for discussion.

serve as types for discussion.

'My answer is that sculpture is only one form of memorial. Even architecture, which ministers to all the arts and to the utilities, is only one of the voices that may proclaim honor. Two examples:

An eating house is certainly prosatic; and an auditorium is utilitarian;

c; and an auditorium is utilitarian; out "Memorial Hall" at Cambridge which combines these two incongruous elements, has been in the fulles ous elements, has been in the fullest sense of the word a memorial, a more worthy and effectual memorial of the sons of Harvard whose names are wrought in its transept than any stone monument or arch which the art of its age could have produced. Young men, amounting now to many thousands, whose daily fortune it has been and is to pass among those pames, in and is to pass among those names, in that memorial setting, cannot fail to absorb something of the spirit of the men there honored. The association men there honored. The association of the College commons and the College theatre with the Memorial has made the memorial real.

A young man of promise died in China. His memorial is the "Leland Stanford, Jr., University," instituted in his name with its endowment of $30,000,000, to give instruction free to all and to help carry forward that civilization from which his contribution was cut off. Absolutely utilitarian, one cannot deny the greatness, nor the beauty, nor the strength of this university as a memorial. And Leland Stanford, Jr., whose name and honoring are preserved in the title of the memorial, is honored more perpetually and more insistently in this petually and more insistently in this petually and more insistently in this institution than by any mere monument, arch, or architectural structure. This uncovers the truth that a memorial may be an institution. An institution is greater than the materials that compose its buildings. It has been said that our Newton memorial ought not to be a building, because the memorial should be more permanent than a building, and should be, for example, a memorial arch. be, for example, a memorial arch. Architecture ministered in this form

This year's class hymn has been written by Edna McGregor and will be sung to the music written by Mendelsohn for Burns' Oh, Wert Thou in the Cauld Blast.

It is hoped that the Newtonian will be issued about Jane 10. This is uncertain however as the publication has been considerably delayed by a strike of engravers.

On Thursday morning Memorial Day exercises were held in the assembly hall. After a prayer by Mr. Adams, Harry Watson recited Lincoln's Gettysburg address. The first speaker was Lieut. Louis Ranlett, who was severely wounded while on active duty in France. Lieut. Ranlett spoke very interestingly of his many adventures and told in detail an especially exciting one in which it was his duty to go into No Man's Land with a squad of men to bring back the wounded. The next speaker was Captain Ryan, a civil war veteran who might well be proud of his service record. He was with Custer fighting the Indians and was wounded five times in the fighting during the early part of the war. It is very seldom that the school has an opportunity of hearing a speaker who has had the experiences that Captain Ryan has had.

This year's honor list contains the names of twenty four girls and fifteen hoys. First honors go to Robert E. Anderson, Jr. and second honors to Ruth Anson Belcher. In order to be ton the honor list one must have attained the rank of eighty or above for the entire school course.

names of twenty four girls and fifteen boys. First honors go to Robert E. Anderson, Jr. and second honors to Ruth Anson Belcher. In order to be on the honor list one must have attained the rank of eighty or above for the entire school course.

On Thursday a debate was held between the sophomore classes of Miss Smith and Miss Richardson on the subject, Capital Punishment should be abolished. Miss Richardson's side which had the negative won. The debaters for the negative were Reynolds, Alingham and Richards, for the affirmative, Marshall Hayden and Smith.

Let trather, and in addition, be a place where future citizens, even in spite of themselves, shall absorb something of democracy, something of loyalty, even something of heroics.

I do not undervalue the power of attractive all ywhen executed in a grand and national way. But I believe that whatever our community can command of art can wisely be coupled with some titical and useful way hand down to generations to come the spirit that spurred us to war and maintained us to victory.

Respectfully,

DYNAMITE OUTRAGE

Attempt to Destroy Residence of Repres entative Leland Powers in Newtonville

entative Leland Powers in Newtonville

The entire city was startled and the residents in the vicinity of Grove Hill, Newtonville, were badly frightened just after midnight on Monday by a loud explosion, caused by dynamite or a bomb on the premises of Representative Leland Powers on Beaumont avenue, Newtonville. The explosive was placed against the back of the house, between the kitchen and the pantry, and adjoining the bulkhead to the celiar. Fortunately for Mr. Powers, it was placed immediately at the end of one of the large beams supporting the house, and most of the force of the explosion was outward in consequence. A large hole was blown in the underpinning of the house, the frame and doors of the bulkhead were blown some distance and badly shattered, the gutter pipe was broken and twisted, some damage done to the eaves and the glass in nearly every window on that side of the house was blown to atoms.

Representative Powers was sleeping in a room at the front of the house. His daughter, Polly, was on a sleeping porch at the second floor level, and his boy in a room adjoining. The cook, Rose Martin, was sleeping in a room off the kitchen fifteen feet from the explosion. The cook was thrown out of bed, but was not injured. The nurse, Sarah Fallon, who was sleeping near the children, screamed when the explosion took place and rushed toward the little girl's cheek was cut, but the boy was still sleeping. In the kitchen very near the explosion, was a dog, "Jerry," and two kittens, "Tom" and "Pepper," belonging to the children. They were unharmed, though covered with plaster and dust.

While some of the public interest manifested last week in the hearing on a proposed Memorial and a New City Hall, was undoubtedly due to the efforts of a committee advocating a municipal gymnasium as such memorial, still there were enough others present to indicate that more than a transient interest is being taken in these important matters.

While there was an emphatic ex-

While there was an emphatic ex-pression that the Memorial should not pression that the Memorial should not be combined with a New City Hall, we also fear that this result was due largely to the efforts of those who favor another form of Memorial. The expression that a City Hall was nothing but an "office building" was repeated more than once and showed the bias behind it. As a matter of fact, there are few more impressive memorials than the Hall of Flags in our State House—a mere office fact, there are few more impressive memorials than the Hall of Flags in our State House—a mere office building from one point of view—but the Hall of Flags is a place which few can enter or pass by, without experiencing some feeling of awe and reverence. City Halls camp of course, be "mere office buildings," the present City Hall for instance, and yet, we have a feeling that a City Hall like that in Springfield, could be made a most impressive kind of Memorial, and one in which every citizen would take far more pride than in a municipal gymnasium or swimming pool. Moreover, we must take exceptions to the evident intent of Capt. Cormerais' remarks, that this Memorial is to be a meeting place or clubroom, so to speak of the returned soldiers and sailors. We do not believe this will meet with popular approval. This Memorial should be raised to the men from Newton who have made the supreme sacrifice and ought not to be profaned with tobacco smoke and the attributes of a clubroom.

a,We were rather surprised and take the place of the companion of th crong arguments and nepresentacive Powers clearly indicated that this work ought to be done now, if the financial interests of the city are to be considered. So far as the location is concerned, there is a strong moral obligation to build such a structure on and near the present building in West Newton. When the city government of two years ago accepted the splendid gift from residents of West Newton of land and buildings approximating $75,000 for a site for a new City Hail, the city entered into an agreement which it has no right, morally speaking, to break, no matter what the legal aspects of the case may be. The site ought to be considered as settled and only the details of the new building ought to be in question.

To those who understand the huge amount of work which has been done in the past twenty years to improve traffic conditions in Nonantum Square, the action of the aldermen in granting the action of the aldermen in granting a gas filling station opposite the engine house, is a tremendous surprise and disappointment. With all three aldermen from this village opposing the grant, it seems strange that the aldermen from other parts of the city should take the action they have. Residents of other parts of the city cannot realize, even if they have, as some of the aldermen stated Monday evening, spent as much as a half hour studying the aldermen stated Monday evening, spent as much as a half hour studying the conditions, what a large amount of traffic is constantly moving thru this busy entrance to our city, and they cannot appreciate what it means to add a large number of automobiles to the present traffic. For many years we have fought to improve the trolley car conditions, and while the present arrangement is not ideal it is far better than the old way of using the square as a terminal for both the Cambridge as well as the Brighton bound cars. as a terminal for both the Cambridge as well as the Brighton bound cars. Mayor Childs appreciated the conditions here, and for some years, a traffic officer in the centre of the square has been of great value. Even with these improvements, there are still frequent accidents and many "near" accidents in this place. Let us hope that the Mayor will again appreciate the conditions and veto the order passed by the aldermen.

Bolshevism and its allied forces Bolshevism and its allied forces seemed thousands of miles away from this peaceful city only last Monday, but with the attempt to dynamite the residence of Representative Leland Powers in Newtonville, we begin to realize that we must be up and doing all we can in this community to stamp

South Sea Natives Satisfied and Joy ous Among the Primitive Surround-ings of Their Islands.

Doctor Osler suggested nothing new -if he ever said it at all-for down among the South Sea islands the old are buried alive when they pass the

"gunning" for the pictures among the numerous unexplored islands which dot the South Pacific, an area that covers a tenth of the globe's surface, and contains 20,000,000 inhabitants. Of these at least 2,000,000, Mr. Johnson estimated, still are savage enough "to believe the earth is flat, and they never heard of German 'kultur' or have been annoyed by book agents.'

Native dances, which seemed amaz-ingly like the steps of a Broadway chorus, were danced by maidens attired in nose sticks, huge earrings and ecklaces, which seemed to compris the complete attire dictated by the spring fashions of the Solomon The "open work ears," which had been distended by disks that look ear drums, often hung down to shoulders. In Malaita they are wearing strings of human teeth, and nothing else, this season.

Mrs. Johnson told of the distinctive variety of "pidgin" English speken by the shore natives of various is-lands. There are as many as 400 different tongues spoken by the various islanders, Mr. Johnson stated. Mrs. Johnson usually made friends with the natives, among whom, she naively stated, there probably was little more danger than among the white lights of Broadway. But this popularity occasionally had its disadvantages.

The pictures showed the four coal-black wives of one native chief, who courteously offered to trade them all for the explorer's wife.

Cannibalism still exists in many of these islands, and Mr. Johnson showed one picture of natives bearing a huge bowl to the grove where they observed their ceremonials in connection with their human roasts. Amid a background of some of the most beau tiful scenery to be found in the world. the speaker said, exist peoples of almost animal-like savagery and ferocity, to whom torture and murder seem the favorite pastimes

"THE 'Y' SOUGHT SERVICE, NOT FAME," SAYS GEORGE W. PERKINS

Chairman of War Work Finance Committee returns home and reports fully on monumental and efficient organization reared by Y. M. C. A. for service to A. E. F.

where he spent over four months in making a thorough investigation of the work done by the Y. M. C. A. Chairman Perkins' report is an im-pressive exhibit of the prodigious service rendered by the great organiz-ation in all directions in the war land, and members and friends of the Association may well feel that its big task was well done. In his summary Perkins says:

"No higher tribute could be paid to the work of the Y. M. C. A. than that which is now being paid by the Army itself, for it is either taking over o itself, for it is either, taking over of largely co-operating in the work of continuing and enlarging the activities instituted by the Y. M. C. A. at the beginning of its work in Europe. After the armistice was signed, it was neither necessary nor practical to keep the soldiers at military drill seep the soldiers at keep the soldiers at military drill every day. Our men had not intended to enter the army as a permanent call-ing. They had simply gone into the war to whip Germany. When the job was finished, they were through, and they wanted to come home immedi-ately and get to work at their civilian conventions. There were more than occupations. There were more than 2.000.000 of them scattered through France and Germany. The great question was how to occupy the time of these men, how to give them healthy occupation and at the same time prepare them, at least in some degree, for the work they were to take up on returning home. The army at once turned to the Y. M. C. A. for help in solving this problem. Genera headquarters assigned many high of ficers to co-operate in the work th Y. M. C. A. was earrying on in ath letics, entertainment and educationa

A. directors of these activities, and the two organiza tions, working in close co-operation, are today shaping the policy of entertainment and athletic activities, the Y. M. C. A. furnishing the money, and the Y. M. C. A. and Army jointly furnishing the personnel. I believe that the beneficial effects of the educational program laid down by the Y. M. C. A., and the athletic activities it has carried on, have been so farreaching that the War Department will hereafter continue these activities in our army in times of peace as well as in times of war, for many of ficers have told me that the beneficial effect of these activities on the morale of the army could hardly be measured

"The Y. M. C. A. never solicited noney for the purpose of giving away ts canteen supplies. If the Y. M. C. The constant policy of the . M. C. A. was to sell canteen supolies as nearly as possible at cost, and to bend every effort, when fighting was in progress, to furnish the men at the front with supplies free of charge where it was at all possible to get the goods to them.

"The Y. M. C. A's definite program n Europe from the beginning, and continuously, has been to bend every fort and use every dollar it could btain to occupy the leisure time of the soldiers, and to do this with various forms of entertainment, athletics worth-while educational activities, etc. ather and mother, every wife and sister, and the men themselves, will-approve the Y. M. C. A.'s course in this respect? Is it not infinitely better to do everything possible to occupy the leisure time and to fill the long dreary evenings of the soldiers than to use the money in giving away a larger quantity of cigarettes, choco and other similar articles?

"The Y. M. C. A. tried to respond to every call that the Army made on it it never hesitated to tackle any job was asked to undertake; it did not sidestep any task it was asked to perform. It took the position that it was in Europe to do all it could, as best it could; that when it was called on to render service of any kind, its duty was to respond in the same spirit that the soldiers did, and not hold back pecause adverse circumstances might imum success. not fame. Surely every contributor of money will approve the Y. M. C. A.'s course in this respect.

effect of these activities on the morale of the army could hardly be measured. Germany had nothing of this sort in its army, and its absence caused a great loss in the morale of its men.

"One critic of the Y. M. C. A. in France stated that in his judgment the outstanding mistake made by the Y. M. C. A. was in trying to have too large a staff of workers; that the the outstanding mistake made by the too large a staff of workers; that the too large a staff of workers; that the staff was accomplished and is accomplishing in Europe can never be gauged at its true worth except by those who have seen it in its entirety. Demonstration Home Garden

The home gardener who has been onto his job has already been out in his garden carefully scrutinizing his cabbages, peas and other vegetables for traces of plant lice. It is safe to say that these aphids can be found in any garden at this time, so it is well to be on the watch for these pests and have some spray material in preparation. Plant lice vary in size and color but may be recognized easily on account of their soft bodies with long legs and feelers. They are a very destructive pest as they breed in large numbers. It does not take long for a number of plant lice to suck the juices from a plant and kill it.

Because they are a sucking insect

Because they are a sucking insect hey cannot be controlled by arsenical poisons or paris green. The aphid they cannot be controlled by arsenical poisons or paris green. The aphid thrusts its sharp bill through the leaf of the plant and sucks the juices from within. They can be controlled by a contact spray, the purpose of which is to burn the tender body of the aphids. The two popular contact sprays for plant lice are the 40 per cent nicotine shiphate agrees the succession.

ulphate spray known on the market is "Black Leaf 40" and kerosene emulion. The home gardener usually has setter results with the former spray as better results with the former spray as the kerosene emulsion often causes much damage to the plant itself unless it is properly prepared.

Nicotine sulphate should be used at the rate of 1½ teaspoonfuls "Black Leaf 40" and one cubic inch of soap per gallo nof water. The soap helps as a spreader and sticker for the mixture and should always be added when the "Black Leaf 40" is used alone. The above proportion is stronger than what is recommended on the package but we find that the manufacturers' proportion is not strong enough in a great many cases.

The other spray for plant lice—kerosene emulsion—can either be purchased or manufactured at home. To make this spray dissolve one cubic inch of soap in a cup of water and boil on the store a few minutes will the inch of soap in a cup of water and boil on the stove a few minutes until the soap is thoroughly dissolved. When this has been accomplished remove the solution from the stove and add to it two cupfuls of kerosene. Stir very thoroughly until the solution becomes completely emulsified. The solution must be violently agitated until a creamy mixture has been obtained. This solution must be diluted at the rate of one part to diluted at the rate of one part to 15 parts of water before the plants are sprayed with it.

By the time this article appears the plant lice will already have begun their miserable work and the gardener who begins to spray his plants before they get so lousy that he is not able to see them is the one who will harvest something from his garden. If you don't get the bugs, the bugs will get you.

The advanced pupils charmed the audience with the brilliance and ease and grace of their playing, which was really remarkable. Mr. Thomas W. Cotton, baritone, gave one selection, and the program was further varied by a reading, "In the Days of Lafayette" given by Miss Carolyn McClellan to incidental musical accompaniment. CENTRAL SQUARE THEATRE

Douglas Fairbanks has a suitcase full of brand new stunts that he introduces in his next picture "The Knickerbocker Buckaroo," which is to be shown at Gordon's Cambridge Central Square Theatre, all next week. His latest Artcraft release takes him out West, where in an effort to be unselfish and do things for other people, he gets into melodramatic mix-ups that create their own comedy incidents."

In addition to this wonderful photoplay there will be a fine bill of vaude-play there will be a fine bill of ville, including: Betty Bond, cter songs in her own beautiful setting; George and Nettie Fort setting; George and Nettle Forto in a variety of comedy, singing and danc-ing; Powers and Wallace, a very clev-er pair in a sketch entitled "Georgia on Broadway", also Sandy Shaw, and Hughes Duo.

The latest Mack Sennett Comedy "No Mother to Guide Him" will also be shown.

be shown. There will be an entire change of vaudeville Thursday, Friday and Sat

Part in Americanization," the three essentials being the knowledge of a common language with a minimum of illiteracy, a common citizenship, and the getting together of all the things that are really Americanization," as "a preparation of the hearts of the native born to receive into full fellowship those born in other lands," summed up the address of Fred C. Butler, director of Americanization of the Department of the Interior.

Thursday and Friday were given to the departments of two first and the consideration of Federation policies. Every effort during the past year has been bent toward shaping their work along reconstruction lines. A new view of Home Economics that of the "Children in the Homes" rather than food, budget, etc., which have been uppermost, was presented by Mrs. Charles W. Greene. Her remarks on the matter of amusements, dress and topened up a field that the club will do well to follow.

The closing session was given to the so-called cultural departments, to, had the "war squint."

Of the several events may be mentioned the reception the first evening tendered by the Chamber of Commerce, the auto trip to Baltimore by the Rotary Club through miles and miles of woods with laurel in full bloom, honeysuckle and roses running wild along the road sides—a visit to the rose garden and to the dairy where herds of fine Jersey cows were being milked by electricity with a sample of the milk and ice cream for every delegate.

BACK FROM ASHEVILLE

Unbounded hospitality on the part of the North Carolina women, the beautiful natural setting of Asheville and the enthusiastic interest of the visiting club women to the number of 725 combined to make the Midbiennial Council meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs a most successful gathering. Viewing it in retrospect it was not agreat meeting, so far as addresses and speakers were concerned, and there are points where Massachusetts was inclined to think it could have improved upon things, though that is not intended as a reflection, yet it brought together women from 44 states and London, Eng. Massachusetts led with 23, excepting, of course, North Carolina which had 394. The press of Asheville were most generous in the space accorded the convention and there was a feeling of pride in the hearts of the delegates to read that they 'were among the flower of American womanhood.'

Assembly singing was a feature of every session and the big chorus of school children on the first evening in patriotic songs and that of colored-children the next, when they delighted their audience with "Spirituals," will be remembered even after many other details of the program have passed from mind.

Americanization, Child Welfare, War Memorials, Reconstruction with all the attending problems were the serious problems discussed—discussed from many amjees and by many eminent speakers.

Miss Susanna Cocroft spoke for the promotion of health of women, particularly those in industry, through training camps where they may have outdoor training similar to that the soldiers have had. She told of the government camps for the purpose.

Miss Helen Varick Boswell presented in a stirring address "Woman's Part in Americanization," the three care in Americanization, the three care in Americanization, the three care in Americanization, the three care in the soldiers have had. She told of the government camps for the purpose.

Without doubt the address of Thursday evening by Judge William H. Wadham of New York was the high water mark of the Convention. While his subject was announced as "The League of Nations," it was in reality side-lights upon the Peace Conference at Paris from an eye witness.

An organ recital on Friday evening was tendered the delegates by the management of the Grove Park Inn, the headquarters of the Convention—beautiful music, beautifully rendered, and an inspiring and uplifting ending to the series of meetings.

LETTER FROM CAMP JACKSON

Many Newton people have pleasant recollections of Miss Helen McGrath and Miss Grace Coffman of Seattle, Wash., who taught at the Stearns School at Nonantum a few years ago in exchange with two of our teachers. Miss McGrath is now in the Red Cross service at Camp Jackson, near Columbia, S. C., and the following letter from her to Mrs. Orlando Mason of Charlesbank road gives an interesting picture of the daily life of those who are devoting themselves to the restoration of the wounded:

The following letter gives an excellent idea of actual conditions in an army hospital.

I can't begin to tell you how much I enjoy Camp Jackson and my work here. Better than sight-seeing and you remember how fond I am of seeing all the new places.

well, to begin with—have enjoyed the southern sunshine of a southern winter with no snow and no cold weather. We have had rainy days occasionally, but we can go all over the hospital area, something like 100 acres, without leaving the board walks, which are covered. Even should we have occasion to go off the walks there is no mud as it is a regular sand dune with occasional pine trees, but near by is a wonderful forest of all kinds of trees and shrubs, also farm houses and fruit trees taken over by the Government, so we have had blossoms of some kind, since early in March. So many flowering trees and shrubs, including dogwood, laurel, wild magnolia, red bud, maple, the fringed elm, the latter is one mass of white fringe—looks bud, maple, the fringed elm, the latter is one mass of white fringe—looks like a Christmas tree with tissue paper festoons. The shrubs are various, and many, the wild honeysuckle, big pink ones on bushes, small white ones on vines, also sweet shrub, jassmine, etc., and flowers of all kinds. I should like to go to the woods every day, but try to be satisfied with several times a week and usually twice on Sunday. An early morning walk, then we go with the boys in the afternoon. We take any able to walk. Last Sunday take any able to walk. Last Sunday there were 43. Every one comes back with flowers which are sent to the different wards.

You see we have to get up and have breakfast before 7.30 on Sunday same as other days, so it gives us a long day, but far too short for me; go to services at "Y" at 11 A. M., dinner at 12, to some of the wards for short visits as Sunday is so long for bed patients, then for walk, or Red Cross House, and services at Red Cross House that evening. In fact I spend most of my free time at Red Cross house for Convalescents, as there are so many lonely boys, so anxious to go home, some of us go over as often as possible to play games or just talk.

us go over as often as possible to play games or just talk.

So, I am sure you will forgive me for not writing, much as I love all my friends, I seldom stay home long enough to write letters, for the boys need our immediate help and time.

During the week get up at 6 or 6.15 take a walk or play tennis half an hour, before breakfast, put room in order for inspection, general inspection each Saturday, by one of the Commanding Officers. Go to work at 8 A. M. and seldom stop till 11.30 or 12; as we have the same patients each day and they come at certain hours, usually several at a time, so we don't need to wait. You will find that the weeds are trying their hardest to let you know of their presence. These should be "nipped in the bud," so to speak. Perhaps the most practical method of taking the weeds in hand is to rake the soil thoroughly between the rows with a garden rake having long, pointed teeth. The soil between the narrow rows can be chopped up with a hoe. A scuffle hoe is a most useful cultivating tool with which to work between the rows.

SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL

To the Editor:

Miss Marian Keep, Editor

Now is a very good time to plan for the summer. The housewife will look forward to the spring and summer days, instead of dreading them, if she will plan to save her strength. She can do so by avoiding methods which are tiresome, hot and burdensome.

Certainly there is nothing more tiring than working in a hot, steamy kitchen on one of our typical July days. Not only the housewife feels the effects but the whole family as well.

Here's a suggestion—have you ever tried a fireless cooker? Some people will say it's a luxury but they are usually the ones who have never tried the cooker or who have not realized its advantages, through lack of knowledge. Today we rarely consider a device which saves time, money, and strength a luxury but rather a necessity.

Foods cooked in the Fireless are deliciously tender, well flavored and they retain their full weight and nutriment, since there is little or no evaporation. Foods in the process of cooking in the Fireless do not have to be watched, turned, stirred or basted. All of the work and worry connected with the Fireless. The food will not overcook, burn or dry up and it may be kept in the cooker for hours and will be hot and delicious.

In the modern Fireless cooker foods may be roasted, baked, steamed, stewed, or boiled, fried and broiled. In it can be cooked fish, clams, and all lint can be cooked fish, clams, and al

Changes in vegetation from Massachusetts, where certain trees were still bare boughed or yet to reach their full foliage, to North Carolina with that of mid-summer have been interesting to watch. The immense and early spring flowers have given place to fields white with daistes and yellow with gorse and banks covered with honeysuckle. SCHOOL NOTES

Technical High School

Memorial day was celebrated last Thursday by two entertainments, so that all the school might enjoy at least one of them. Wednesday afternoon Miss Fiske's class of Junior girls gave a most interesting program. Beatrice Wilson, as chairman, introduced the speakers, who recited poems in honor of the holiday itself, in interpretation of the relation between the North and South, and in appreciation of our fallen soldiers in the great war. The usual attention of the large audience testified to the excellence of the selections and the charming sympathy of their interpretation. The program closed with the singing of national hymns, led by Mr. Harrington, and accompanied by the class orchestra.

Thursday morning two of the Alumni, Richard Wentworth, 1914, and Eliot Stickney, 1915, spoke to the school. Though there was no one who did not miss the Grand Army men, the brief, manly speeches of the young "veterans' was an inspiration that will long be felt.

Tuesday and Wednesday, June 3 and 4, there will be held important spelling and punctuation tests for Freshmen and Sophomores. Failure to pass in these tests may mean a failure in English. There will be a first and second prize awarded to the Freshmen and Sophomores who do best in these examinations.

During the past two weeks, a few Junior girls have spent their afternoons working at the Draft Board in West Newton. They rolled up and sent out over 3000 certificates for the soldiers, sailors, and Red Cross nurses of Newton. Among those who young. ry from Butte, Montana, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Richardson of Highland avenue for the summer.

—The Children's Day Service of the Methodist Church will be held Sunday at 6 P. M. It will take the place of the regular Sunday evening service. There will be recitations and singing by the children, and flowers will be distributed to all the children of the Sunday-School. The speaker at the Memorial Day exercises was Major Frank Piper of the 26th Division, 101st Regiment. Major Piper gave many interesting stories in describing his work in con-petion, with the medical nection with the medical corps of the A. E. The Memorial Exercises of the C. C. Burr and Williams Schools took an unusual form this year. The pupils of grades 4-8 met in the school hall on Wednesday to greet the members of the G. A. R. and the returned heroes of this present war. There were songs and recitations. At the sugestion of the G. A. R. the speaking was given to the heroes of the present war, former members of the school. Commander James Reid of the G. A. R. introduced Lieut. Felix Randlett of the 2d division, and Private George Fiske and Corporal Roland Allen of the YD. who gave most interesting accounts of their experiences in France. The program concluded with the singing of original war songs by Commander Reid. The Memorial Exercises of the C.

LASELL NOTES

Commencement exercises at Lasell Seminary, Auburndale, opened Saturday afternoon with the annual May fete, presented on the school campus. The spectacle was elaborate, including a pageant and an exhibition of folk dances, besides the coronation of the queen of May. Hundreds of spectators viewed the exercises from the green slopes of the natural ampitheatre.

Mr. William B. Bosson, for over forty years a resident of this city, was drowned in Lake Winnepesaukee, N. H., last Monday atternoon. Mr. Bosson was spending the summer with his son, Mr. H. Stewart Bosson of Meredith, N. H., and had been out in the lake fishing. One of the neighbors noticed the boat drifting about and notified Mr. Stewart Bosson and subsequently the body was found lying in a few feet of water quite near the shore. It is thought that Mr. Bosson, who has not been in his usual health for sometime, sustained a stroke of apoplexy while paddling the boat homeward, and fell into the water. green slopes of the natural ampitheatre.

Miss Ethel Ramage of St. Johnsbury, Vt., vice-president of the senior class, was chosen queen of May, the highest honor that can be bestowed upon a student at the seminary. The queen is chosen by secret balloting, the result of which is not announced until the ceremonies take place. Miss Catherine Rice of Indianapolis, a member of the junior class, was selected as the queen's maid of honor.

The queen was crowned by Miss Priscilla Alden of North Weymouth, the senior class president. Barbara and Frances Sprague, 6-year-old twin sisters, pupils at the Woodland School, were flower girls. After the queen had been crowned the students marched to the throne by classes and sang their class songs.

Mr. Bosson was born in Chelsea and was 66 years of age. For many years he was private secretary for the Fayestate, but retired from active business some years ago. He made his winter home with his daughter, Mrs. Samuel N. Fleming in West Newton, and spent his summers at Meredith, N. H. Besides Mr. Stewart Bosson and Mrs. Fleming, he is survived by another son, Mr. William B. Bosson, Jr., of Zuni, New Mexico. He is a brother of ex-alderman Edward P. Bosson of Newton Centre.

Funeral services were held yestermarched to the throne by classes and sang their class songs.

A May pole dance, following the coronation, was a brilliant event. Each girl wore a sweater matching the color of the ribbon she carried during the dance and the color combination was striking. An exhibition of various folk dances was then given and among the students who interpreted Spanish dances was Miss Maria Cabrera, daughter of the Mexican minister of finance.

On Tuesday morning people in Newton saw a procession of automobiles passing filled with happy, laughing children. Where were they going? What did it all mean?

They were Miss Green's and Miss Sampson's pupils in the fourth grade of the Hyde School on their annual trip studying the geography of Newton, under the leadership of Miss Bragg, Assistant Superintendent of Schools.

This form of teaching geography was introduced by Miss Bragg as a means of visualizing the class-room study.

On the beautiful grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. Bridges on Fairmont avenue, a program of unusual interest was presented Thursday afternoon by the pupils of Miss Lewinthal and Miss Marcy's School.

Following the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner", a number of French songs were sung and recitations given by Margaret Nichols, Elizabeth Schrafft, and Doris Bryant. The singing was marked by a purity of tone and naturalness pleasing to hear.

of tone and naturalness pleasing to hear.

After the songs and recitations came a short one-act play, "The Miraculous Pitcher," in which Helen Moore, Hida Goldthwaite, and Alice Durell Loveland took part. This was the classic myth of Bauci sand Philemon who entertain a god unawares. The part of old Baucis was admirably taken by Helen Moore whose anxiety over the meagreness of the fare offered the god seemed very real, while the part of the aged Philemon was equally well done.

"Les Confitures" followed. In this two pampered children Pierette (Kathryn Schrafft) and Pierrot (Dorothy Bridges) are brought to a realization of their fortunate circumstances by two little mendicants (Phebe Alden and Janet McKenzie). The play was well acted and beautifully spoken.

The last number on the program was "Le Jour de Madame Dubois" in which Madame Dubois has a receiving day. On this occasion she has been accustomed to show off her only child, Jeanne. Newton Children Give Pleasing Entertainment at Farlow Park Wednesday morning Farlow Park blossomed forth into a lovely garden, a human garden in which the children of the Underwood School were the flowers. The owner of the lovely gar-den, according to the program, was Mistress Mary (Lorraine Cutting). The first to appear in the garden was the Fairy Queen (Nancy, Raidwin) The first to appear in the garden was the Fairy Queen (Nancy Baldwin) and her attendants. Some of these stood behind the throne, while others danced before the queen. Then came Mistress Mary herself to inspect her garden but to her disappointment, the flowers were not yet up. Her weeping was very realistic.

Then as if hy magic, the garden

Then, as if by magic, the garden lossomed forth. First came the danblossomed forth. First came the dan delions, and the tiny violets, then the daisies, and the buttercups, the grasses, the tulips, and the roses. Each little girl wore a cap showing the flowers after its dance before the queen, took up a position by itself on the lawn. A daffodil lady in pale yellow also danced before the queen before joining her companions. The grasses mingled with the other groups adding greatly to the color effect.

Anon came the breezes and breathed upon the flowers, and the raindrops, tiny boys in grey caps with streamers attached to their wrists, and sprinkled

Anon came the breezes and breathed upon the flowers, and the raindrops, tiny boys in grey caps with streamers attached to their wrists, and sprinkled the flowers. These were followed by the bluebirds who flew about among the flowers, and the butterflies with their yellow wings, and the bees, easily recognized by the bands of orange with black antennae attached about with black antennae attached about

Soon the garden in the morning sunlight with the trees of the park as a background was, indeed, a lovely sight. Then came Mistress Mary once more. Exhibition of Paintings

The annual exhibition of paintings by Lasell students was held in the school studio yesterday afternoon. An school studio yesterday afternoon. An unusually attractive collection of pictures was exhibited. Aside from the paintings and drawings by the students, the room was beautifully decorated with striking posters by famous artists of France, Italy and Belgium. The success of this exhibit was due to the artist, Mary Augusta Mullikin.

Commencement Concert

The Annual Commencement Concert of Lasell was held at the Seminary on Wednesday evening. Under the direction of Mr. Henry Duncan the program consisting of selections for organ, violin, pianoforte, and voice, was of unusual interest and brilliancy.

MISS EDITH A. MATTESON

In the death of Miss Edith Matte-son, who lost her life in an automo-bile accident on May 29th, Newton is deprived of one of its most popular, efficient and inspiring teachers.

efficient and inspiring teachers.

Miss Matteson was born in Dorset,
Vermont, receiving her early education in the schools of that state. After graduation from the Teachers' Training School at North Adams, she became principal of that school and later of the Ludlow Grammar School.
For ten years she taught in the Williams School, Auburndale, resigning, from this position to take a course in the Sloyd Training School for teachers. Upon the completion of this the Sloyd Training School for teachers. Upon the completion of this course of study she was elected critic teacher in the same institution. Later she returned to Newton as teacher of manual training in the Mason and Bigelow Schools where she attained a high degree of success during the past nine years.

past nine years.

Miss Matteson was an ideal teacher, Miss Matteson was an ideal teacher, enthusiastic in her chosen line, apt in instruction, always tactful, kindly and sympathetic. Her broad interests in things outside the school room, in the work and play of her pupils, her high ideals, her strong and charming personality, all made her peculiarly effective as a teacher.

Her pupils will always remember her with deep regard as a woman of high character and a true friend, one who always inspired them to do and live their best.

Newton owes much to Miss Mattelive their best.

Newton owes much to Miss Matteson for the high ideals of thought and conduct she has inculcated in the boys who have, through the years, come under her influence. Her reward was the admiration and affection so plainly shown by her boys, and the friendship and gratitude of parents.

Miss Matteson's unfailing cheerful-Miss Matteson's unfailing cheerfulness and ready sympathy endeared her to all her fellow teachers. Many a time her kindly words have made the day's work easier and pleasanter. The teaching force of Newton has lost a truly professional member, one who did much to give to Newton schools that prestige which they now enjoy. The success which she attained will long continue to stimulate the teachers and her inspiring personality will still impress the system of which she was so worthy a member.

Newton mourns the loss of a beloved teacher and is grateful for the splendid service she rendered so modestly and perfectly. Her work here is finished, but its results will continue to endure.

fought the Hun.
Governor Calvin Coolidge came in a little later and spoke briefily, reminding the men that while they were away they had not been forgotten. He expressed the gratitude of Massachusetts for what they had done and urged them to use the same courage and same patience in private life—confident that they would perform the same efficient service in peace as in war.

An excellent vaudeville entertain-An excellent vaudeville entertainment followed for about an hour and then the guests proceeded to large tents on the ball field where covers had been laid for 1450. Here an excellent dinner of grape fruit, scalloped fish, cold chicken, lobster and chicken salads and various kinds of ice creams coffee, cigars and cigarettes had been salads and various kinds of ice creams coffee, cigars and cigarettes had been provided. Seventy-five ladies assisted the regular waiters in caring for the diners and the band which had been on duty at the park since three o'clock, provided music while the meal was in progress.

well of Co. A State Guard was chairman of the automobile committee.
Great credit is due to all these gentlemen for the successful carrying out of most excellent plans for the day.
The boys were all presented with a handsome souvenir badge and which acted as a pass of admission to the festivities of the day.
There was a most gratifying response to the request of the committee that the men appear in uniform, the men in citizen clothes being hardly noticable.

noticable. A pleasing incident of the afternoon was the presentation at the dinner, of a gold watch to Thomas Tredden of Auburndale. The presentation was made by Mayor Childs and was the gift of Auburndale friends of Mr. Tredden who was the youngest resistance. Tredden, who was the youngest resident of that village to enlist.

The boys had a good time in the parade by spraying the police officers they passed with pop beer. A liquid barrage was laid down with great skill and precision and the cops made a hasty and undignified retreat before it

All the speakers last Saturday night at the Welcome Home reception emphasized the need of constant work and fight against anarchy and Bolshevism and reminded the returned soldiers that the country looked to them to lead in the great struggle for American freedom and independence. Company A of the State Guard should be the rallying point for active work Company A of the State Guard should be the rallying point for active work in this line, and should be recruited at once up to its full strength before it goes into a week's camp next month at Boxford. Co. A has had a splendid record during the war and there should be no doubt of its continuing its high standard in the future.

Our representatives and senator a the State House are to be heartily commended for their action in opposing an increase in salary of members of the Legislature and in supporting the Governor's veto of that measure.

The welcome home reception last Saturday was a credit to the city and showed the boys what the home folks thought of them.

THE FIRST AMERICAN BICYCLE

Editor of the Graphic:

It may interest your readers to know when and where in America the first bicycle was made. Up to the year 1876 there were many wooden veloci-Row when and where in America the first bicycle was made. Up to the year 1876 there were many wooden velocipedes made, and among these there were severes vereal that were gradually departing from the pattern of the velocipede and approaching the form of the bicycle of a later date. The velocipede went out because of its thrust action on the pedals. The success of the bicycle was owing to the vertical action where the weight of the rider furnished a good part of the propelling force. In 1876 Mr. R. H. Hodgson conducted a machine shop at Newton Upper Falls, and it was there that Mr. Hodgson built the first American bicycle. The way in which he constructed his first wheel is interesting. It was an evolution from the baby carriage. In anticipation of the spokes of which was brought about by a sliding flange on the hub; a device for which he applied for a patent. This was one of the first of many experimental wire wheels made, and recognizing that, with its tension spokes, it was much stronger than the ordinary wooden wheel, he made a larger one which was tested in connection with three wooden wheels on a butcher's wagon. Finding that it stood up remarkably well, he fitted a backbone and a smaller wheel in the country, at the time, but they were all imported ones. The first imported one was brought from France by W. M. Wright of New York in 1873. Cunningham, Heath and Co. imported one was brought from France by W. M. Wright of New York in 1873. Cunningham, Heath and Co. imported and sold English wheels in 1877, and in January, 1878, the Pope Manufacturing Co. imported a lot of English bicycles up to the year 1879. He built two weights of the wheel, "The Velocity" and "The Newton Challenge." For want of capital he sold his business to McKee and Harrington of New York City, and entered into employment with that firm as superintendent of its factory.

Country Day School

The 8th annual graduation of the Country Day School was held in the school hall Thursday afternoon. Mr. S. K. Kerns gave a brief review of the work of the school during the past year, and paid a beautiful tribute to two of his teachers who are leaving the school, Mr. John H. Chase, and Mr. Olin M. Jacobs. Mr. Chase who has been with the school since the beginning was presented with a leather arm chair by Charles K. Cummings, Jr., on behalf of the school. In his speech, Mr. Cummings said that any course given by Mr. Chase would be an education.

The speaker of the afternoon was Dr. John C. Ferguson and his topic was "Our Future Leaders."

The prizes were awarded as follows: The Houghton prize for excellence

The Houghton prize for excellence in English composition was won by Duncan C. Mann of Boston, honorable mention going to John C. Brewer of Newton. James Huribut of Cambridge was announced as the winner of the Cabot prize reading contest, Lawrence O. Pratt of West Newton received first honorable mention, and Joseph G. GRACE M. BURT, Editor.

AFTERMATH OF THE STATE FED-ERATION CONVENTION

"Smile, smile, smile," from the popular war song, must have been making its groove in the brains of the club women during the past year or more or they never could have smiled so serenely as they did during the torrid days at South Hadley last week. To be sure the heat was not confined to that town and doubtless the delegates were fully as comportable as they

newly elected president.

Among the resolutions passed was one recommended by the General Federation favoring the advisability of periodic physical examination of adults, since middle-life mortality is greater in the United States than in any other civilized community; one expressing the admiration and love among the members of the Federation for Mrs. Claire H. Gurney, the retiring president; the usual courtesy resolutions and one urging the United States Senate to vote for ratification of the Peace Treaty and the League of Nations.

In her closing address Mrs. Gurney In her closing address Mrs. Gurney urged the women to think wisely, see clearly, and be at harmony. "Harmony and peace when not bought at the expense of principle should be the motto of the Federation."

Several Newton women have been elected to serve the Federation during the coming year, Mrs. Francis E. Stanley as a trustee of the Endowment Fund, Mrs. Fred H. Tucker a director for three years, and Miss Anna M. Whiting a member of the nominating committee. Two Newton clubs were presented for membership, the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club and the Newton Community Club.

With this meeting is closed the war service of the club women as a Federation. They have met the test in a very splendid way and they will not be found wanting in the great reconstruction period which is ahead.

will hold their annual picnic Thursday, June 19th, on the grounds of the residence of Mrs. Frank M. Ferrin.

The Stearns School children welcomed the returned soldiers as the parade passed thru Nonantum, Saturday afternoon. They assembled with the parochial school children and friends at the corner of Pearl and Watertown streets. The home of the Misses Stearns and the parochial residence were beautifully decorated with buting nad flags. Reverend J. E. Robichaud presented each child with a flag which added much to the gaiety of the scene. As the boys passed, patriotic songs were sung, led by Mr. Ward Raymond of the Stearns School. The children were very enthusiastic and showed their patriotism by greeting each automobile with rousing cheers.

Stearns School had its annual Memorial Day Exercises. The guests were Mr. Flood, a Civil War veteran, and Messrs. Edward Terrio, David Keefe, and David Fried, members of the 26th Division and former pupils of the school. The program consisted of a play called, "Good Fairy Thrift" and brief incidents of the World War by the members of the 26th Div. Following this entertainment, a buffet lunch was served. was served.

PLYMOUTH THEATRE — "Very Good Eddie", the melodious Princess Theatre farce comedy, which tickled the ears and the funnybones of thousands, will be the attraction at the Plymouth Theatre, beginning Monday, June 16, marking the second week of Carl Hunt's summer season of favorite musical comedies with an all star cast. For laughable situations few musical nieces ever written can compare with PLYMOUTH THEATRE -For laughable situations few musical pieces ever written can compare with this brilliant farce, wherein witty lines follow each other as swiftly as the bullets from a rapid-fire gun. The cast will include the same dainty pretty ensemble, which has charmed all Boston, winning favor not alone by its individual and collective winsomeness, but also by its rare ability in singing and dancing. Miss Dorothy Maynard, the delightfully sweet prima donna will be assisted by thoroughly competent players, including Laura Hamilton, Flavia Arcaro, Leonore Chippendale, Rene Brown, Irving Beebe, John Norton, and George Gorman.

farcical situations and dialogue. And when to these is added a comedy element similar to that in "Charley's Aunt," with one of the characters masquerading in feminine garb, it is apparent that there is ample opportunity for a farce that is productive of continuous uproarious laughter.

POLICE NOTES

As the result of a fatal joy ride in West Newton on May 4 Harry A. Orr was in the Newton court on Monday charged with manslaughter, with driving at a speed to endanger the lives of the public and with unlawful appropriation of an automobile. On the first charge Judge Bacon found probable cause and ordered Orr held in bonds of $2500 to await the action of the grand jury. For speeding he was given a year in the House of Correction and for unlawfully appropriating the machine was fined $20. From the last two sentences he appealed.

Richard Dalton, who was one of many witnesses heard, said that he and Donahue brought liquor to the garage and that Orr had two drinks. He then locked the place after taking out the car. The witness thought that the machine was not travelling more than twenty-five miles an hour when Sterilize Milk Utensils.

The approach of warm weather adds both the dairyman's and the house-eeper's problem of keeping milk on souring. It is commonly known hat bacteria in milk produce changes hich spoil it and therefore every eans should be taken to reduce the acteria content of milk as much as means should be taken to reduce the bacteria content of milk as much as possible. This can be done, first, by producing milk under clean conditions, second, by handling and by keeping it in sterilized utensils, and third, by keeping it cold.

Soiled milk utensils, and even those which apparently are clean, but which have not been sterilized, contain vast numbers of bacteria which are added to milk or cream when it comes in contact with them.

Before sterilizing rinse all utensils Before sterilizing rinse all utensils in cold water, then wash thoroughly with hot water and washing powder. Sterilization is not a substitute for washing. Keep the milk in a separate compartment in the ice chest. Remember the food value in milk is very high, it contains sugar and fat, which provide energy for the body, protein which is important in making and rebuilding the tissue and mineral salts which keep the body in good condition. We can not afford to waste a single quart. tion. We can single quart.

Two or three pounds of fish—two tablespoons drippings, 2 tbsp. cut onton, 1 cup tomato, 2 tablespoons chop-ion, I cup tomato, 2 tablespoons chopped green peppers, 1-2 tsp. salt, spk. paprika and allspice.

After the fish has been scaled and the head removed and tail removed, split and remove the back bone and small bone at top and bottom. Wash, dry and put in shallow pan that has been greased with drippings, skin side down. Cover with sauce and bake 25 to 30 min. Place on a hot platter with a border of mashed potato.

Sauce.—Put the drippings in pan, add onions and peppers, fry until tender, but not brown. Add tomatoes, spice and seasoning, boil 10 min., then add 1 tbsp. flour thickening and 1 cup of water, boil five minutes and mash through strainer.

Newton Highlands Extends a Welcome Home to Service Men

About two hundred men who had seen service in the army and navy were present Monday evening at the State Armory in West Newton for the purpose of taking the preliminary steps to form a local unit of the American Legion.

Capt. Henry D. Cormerais called the meeting to order and was chosen temporary chairman and Mr. Henry W. Strandquist served as secretary. Mr. Strandquist served as secretary. Mr. Strandquist with was one of the Massachusetts delegates to the St. Louis convention of the Legion and who also attended the meeting held at Worceter where the state association was organized, gave a report of these conventions.

The meeting favored the formation of a local unit and proceeded at once to elect temporary officers, and the names of Capt. Cormerais, Capt. Edward Edmunds, Jr., Capt. C. Sinclair Weeks, Charles J. Mahoney of the Aviation service and Wagoner Joseph L. Sheridan, among others who declined, were placed in nomination. Capt. Cormerais called Major M. W. Murray to take the chair and after several suggestions as to the method of balloting, it was finally voted that the chair assign certain portions of the hali to each candidate and that those who favored such candidate would gather Mayor Childs sent in his first veto of the year returning without approval the grant for a gasolene filling station in Nonantium square passed at the previous meeting.

Alderman Hollis said he would not oppose the veto but called attention to the fact that but slight opposition has been manifested before the committee, but after the action of the board, strong pressure had been brought to bear on the Mayor, led by the Newton Improvement Society and he suggested that in the future such organizations should be notified of petitions of the matter had been so thoroly thrashed out a year or so ago that it was thought that no favorable action would be taken. Alderman Kendrick also spoke favoring the veto and the veto was sustained only four aldermen, Blake, Clement, Cole and Cook voting in opposition.

No one opposed the decoration of an Edison Light pole on Central street and betaves as assed later in the session.

John D. Harrington's petition for a mibile garage at 757 Washington street, Newtonville, was favored by the restriction and opposed to discontinuance of Sawsco road at Chestnut hill and the order was passed later in the session.

DEATH OF MR. WOODBERRY

Mr. Horace E. Woodberry, for Learly forty years, a well known business man of West Newton, died early last Saturday morning, at his home on Parsons street, after several months of failing health. Mr. Woodberry was born in Beverly Farms, Mass., October 14, 1843, and was educated at Peirce Academy at Middleboro. Following his marriage in 1869 he engaged in business at Amherst, N. H., where for eight years he was the postmaster by appointment of Presdent Grant, removing to West Newton in 1881; where he since conducted a grocery store.

Mr. Woodberry was a charter member of Newton Lodge, I. O. O. F., and took an active part in its work, and was a member of the Lodge quartet for many years. He was also a member of Dalhousie lodge of Masons, Musical in his tastes, he sang for a number of years in the choir of the Second Church.

Mr. Woodberry is survived by a widow, one son, Mr. Dwight L. Woodberry and one daughter, Miss Ethel M. Woodberry of West Newton.

The attendance at the funeral services held on Tuesday afternoon, filling the house to overflowing, and the many tributes of flowers, bore eloquent testimony of the esteem in which he was held, and which were defended by setting the house to overflowing, and the many tributes of flowers, bore eloquent testimony of the esteem in which he was held, and which were defended by setting the house to overflowing, and the many tributes of flowers, bore eloquent testimony of the esteem in which he was held, and which were defended by the proposed for the Middleback Club.

around him until the tellers could count. There was considerable confusion as the men divided and when the friends of Messrs. Mahoney and Sheridan and Capt. Cormerais found that the bulk of the vote was going either to Capt. Edmunds or Capt. Weeks, there was a constant shifting, so that the tellers were unable to make the count. The chairman finally gave them three minutes to locate them selves and then there was an attempt to have the vote taken by ballot, which was ruled out of order. In the final division, Capt. Edmunds received 101 votes and Capt. Weeks 93. The other officers elected were William Cahill, vice commander, Fr. William J. Farrell, chaplain, Harry W. Strandquist, adjutant, and Thomas F. Hickey, fiselves and then then then then then to have the vote taken by ballot, which was ruled out of order. In the final division, Capt. Edmunds received 101 votes and Capt. Weeks 93. The other officers elected were William Lahill, vice commander, Fr. William J. Farrell, chaplain, Harry W. Strandquist, adjutant, and Thomas F. Hickey, finance officer.

These officers are but temporary, holding office only until a charter is received and they were instructed to appoint a nominating committee of 5 who were to report at a subsequent meeting the names of not less than two candidates for each office. A constitution and by laws will also be president of the value of the valu

THE WALNUT STREET WIDENING

The plans adopted by the aldermen for the widening of Wainut street at Newtonville square, call for no change on the east side of the street, south of the bridge and no change in the street line by the Associates' block to Austin street, altho a building line is established beginning at Austin street about 7 feet from the presnt line and coming out at the presnt street line, about 55 feet north of Austin street. South of Austin street, the street line is moved ten feet to the west with a building line, ten feet further. These lines run as far south as Highland avenue.

EDITORIAL

The city government should be commended for its action in widening Walnut street at Newtonville square—it should have been done years ago—but at the same time, there is a serious question whether a more comprehensive plan, such as was advocated by Alderman Blake, should not have been adopted. With the new building of the Newton Trust Co. at the corner of Aus-Alderman Blake, should not have been adopted. With the new building of the Newton Tryst Co. at the corner of Austin street, set twenty feet back of the line of Associates block, and with the new proposed Orr block, to be erected in the rear of the Dennison block, set at a retreating angle, as one stands at the drug store corner, there seems good ground for criticizing the improvement as not going far enough. At the same time, the widening at the Claffin block corner to 75 feet will undoubtedly eliminate the presult serious hazard which now exists, and possibly practically, even if not aesthetically, the plan will prove a success. There is one serious omission in the matter and that is in relation to some understanding with the abuttors in regard to the damages caused by the taking. Usually such matters have been thoroly thrashed out before action is taken by the city government. We understand that this is not the case in the present instance and there is a possibility that the damages may amount to an excessive figure.

Woman suffrage now seems to be a nor possibility and from the action of the State Senate yesterday, even conservative Massachusetts, seems to be ready to fall in line with the rest of the country in bringing this about. While we do not believe that the Legislature represents the sentiment of the state, we are glad that in this respect, at least, the legislature is more Woman suffrage now seems to be spect, at least, the legislature is r progressive than its constituents.

The strong local protest against the location of an incinerator near the freight yard on Newtonville avenue has caused the abandonment of the project by its advocates, and is probably a criterion which will be followed when other locations are suggested. It will therefor follow, that Newton will never have an incinerator. will never have an incinerator.

Class Night

The class night occurred on Monday evening. Carrying the daisy chain on their shoulders the seniors marched across the campus and on to the out of door stage singing the processional with the refrain "Carry On." Miss Priscilla Alden, the president, welcomed the guests. Miss Mercia Miss Priscilla Alden, the president, welcomed the guests. Miss Mercia Nichols called the class roll. The prophecy was given by Miss Edith Vance, Miss Frances O. Breen and Miss Phyllis Rowe. The mementoes by Miss Helen Webster. A set of Shakespeare's volumes, the class gift to the school, presented by Miss Ethel Ramage and the farewell address given by Miss Olive Chase.

Reunion

A most unusual feature of the reunion which followed the commencement luncheon on Tuesday was the greeting of the Preceptress, who was in charge 50 years ago, Miss Chamberlain,—also two wide risks, who was the soil of the production of the state of the soil so two "old girls" who were at Lasell school 53 years ago and one 52. 70% school 33 years ago and one 52, 70% of the class who had been graduated 30 years returned and were a constant joy to the school and guests during their stay of five days. It was one of the largest reunions in the history of the school, several hundred of the old girls in attendance.

Commencement Exercises

The Congregational church was crowded to its capacity on Tuesday morning for the graduation exercises. Prayer was offered by Dr. Drew and two selections for violin, 'cello and two selections for violin, 'cello and piano artistically played.

Congressman Robert Luce gave the address. In part he said, "You must learn to think straight and yet there is something greater than that, for the highest purpose of education is not to enable us to do something, but to be something, to live the life that shall be the fullest and most roundly complete, that shall bring you the most pleasure and profit, but more than that shall bring it to others.

The conferring of diplomas and the charge to the graduating class by Dr. Winslow was, as always, most impressive.

Commencement Sunday

The baccaleureate sermon was preached in the Congregational church by the Rev. J. T. Stocking, D. D., of Montclar, N. J. Prayer was offered by Dr. Butters and Dr. Drew introduced Dr. Stocking, welcoming him to the lo cality where he had worked so faith

canty where he had worked so faithfully in previous years.

The Doom of the Timid was the speaker's theme, his text being "There was a man of the Pharisees named Nicodemus." Very graphically he drew the picture of Nicodemus, and his failure to stand the test. He challenged the class to heroism by the lenged the class to heroism by the many big problems they face. The challenge of youth who has suffered in the war is a challenge of service and its message is "Scorn to be safe."

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Miss Marian Keep, Editor

Ices and other frozen dishes are the most popular desserts during the summer months. They are cooling, refreshing and nourishing when properly taken. Often times it is the only way in which nourishment can be given to the sick.

Ice creams contain cream, or eggs and milk as a substitute for it; sugar and flavoring are needed.

Water ices are still simpler in their composition, as they contain only water, sugar and fruit juice.

The ingredients of the cream render it highly nutritious; when fruit is added to water ices, the food value is greatly increased.

Freezing is accomplished by means of crushed ice and salt. The salt and ice combine and form an intensely cold brine, which freezes the mixture immersed in it.

Three parts of cracked ice to one of rock salt are used for freezing ice creams. Equal parts of ice and salt are used for sherbets and water ices. Ices and other frozen dishes are the

DEATH OF MRS. MORSE

Mrs. Clara Rebecca (Boit) Morse, widow of George W. Morse, and long a resident of Newtonville, died on Sunday in Hollywood, a suburb of Los Angeles, Cal., where she was visiting one of her sons, Henry B. Morse, at his home in that place. Mrs. Morse went to California in January and early in February suffered a paralytic stroke. On Saturday last, pneumonia developed and her death followed on Sunday.

developed and her death followed on Sunday.

Mrs. Morse, who on Feb. 3 reached the age of sixty-eight years, was born in Newton Lower Falls, the daughter of James Henry Boit and Amanda Church (Berry) Boit. She received exceptional educational advantages, including the study of art, and became a painter of marked ability. She had the added advantage of considerable foreign travel. On Oct 20, 1870, Miss Boit was married to George Washington Morse, a Boston lawyer, Civil War veteran and former member of the Massachusetts Legislature.

For many years, Mrs. Morse's residence had been at 130 Court street in Newtonville and her home had been

REPUBLIC'S TWO GREAT DAYS!

Ecuador Twice a Year Celebrates Its Freedom From the Domination of the Spaniard.

The republic of Ecuador celebrates two national holidays, and, strange to say, both are "independence days.". Both are observed with the same en-thusiasm and patriotic fervor that is displayed here on the anniversary of the adoption of the immortal declara-tion, according to the Pan-American

The liberty-loving patriots had to shoot two bolts at Spanish domination before they succeeded in gaining per-manent independence. The first time they had a quiet but determined revolution in Quito, the present capital of the republic, the patriots assembling at the house of Manuela Canizares, a brave and beautiful woman, on August 5, 1809, when they prepared their declaration of independence and chose the officials who were to compose the provisional government. That night the conspirators gathered their forces in different parts of the city, and Captain Salinas, who commanded the two companies of regular troops and guarded the city, sent to their barracks, read to them the declaration and won them over to the cause of the patriots. They overpowered the bodyguard of Ruiz de Castilla, the Spanish governor, early on the morning of August 10 and thus established the first republic without shedding a drop of blood. It lasted only about a year, when Castilla succeeded in overthrowing the patriotic government and again brought the country under Spanish dominion.

The fires of liberty had been kindled, however, and the Ecuadoreans kept up their heroic struggle notwithstanding many reverses, until in 1820 the people of Guayaquil, the leading seaport of the country, succeeded in rebelling on the 9th of October. With the aid of Gen. Simon Bolivar, the great Venezuelan emancipator, and of his compatriot, Gen. Antonio Jose Sucre, the Ecuadoreans after many battles succeeded in completely annihilating the Spanish forces and established freedom in Ecuador for-ever. Therefore it is that the Ecuadoreans celebrate two "independence days," the 10th of August and the 9th of October.

New Male Garment Planned. Get ready for next fall, fellows, for the blanket cape. For you are going to have your appearance changed. The new sartorial style is really a cape and blanket, which will be hung over many a pair of masculine shoulders. Just how many it will hang over is yet to be determined, but if the interest the invention aroused at the concluding session of the semi-annual meeting of the American Designers' association in the Martinique hotel is sustained the garment will acquire considerable garment will acquire considerable vogue, writes the New York corregarment spondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch. The blanket cape consists of an army blanket with a few holes and buttons and a detachable collar. When the owner is asleep the blanket cape performs its primal functions of keeping the sleeper warm, and nothing more. When he awakens he removes a circular bit of cloth buttoned to the middle of the blanket and unbuttons a slit about a foot long that starts at the hole. This gives him plenty of room in which to insert his head. Napoleonic storm collar is then attached to the hole collar and the two lies that fall over the arms are con nected into sleeves by concealed but-tons. And there he stands, in a smartlooking poncho that gives him lots of room to get into his pockets and keeps away the cold also! It can be any color or any cloth the wearer choose but these details are left for the author of "What the Men Wear" to have a lit tle fun with.

Stamps of 1918.

"Another year comes to a close with far more than 500 new postage stamps having been issued," writes Kent B. Stiles in his department, "Stamps," in Boys' Life, "The chronicle at this writing shows a total of 511 varieties. but it will be several months yet before American collectors can gain in-formation regarding many issues reported abroad, so that the record for 1918 may tell of as many as 600. In 1917 there were 990 varieties "These 511 varieties were put forth by nations and their possession as islands, protectorates, colonies, dependencies, occupied territories, etc.to the number of 88 governments. Of the 511 varieties 388 were due to the war alone. The United States has issued more than fifty varieties, including shade and die varieties due to inferior dyestuffs and to worn plates the British empire leads the list with nearly 200 varieties."

Mexico Market for Tractors.
In the fiscal year 1918 the United States shipped almost as many tractors to Mexico as to all other Latin-American countries, Mexico's share lacking only 34 of the combined total of the others. The leading position of this neighboring country in our export trade in tractors is due to the action lating agriculture by exempting farming implements from import duty, and even by importing such machinery for sale at cost to Mexican farmers.

Civic Club of Newton Discusses War Memorials

At a meeting of the Civic Club of tewton, held Tuesday, June 10, at the tewton Club a War Memorial in the hape of some kind of a building was ndorsed. This action was taken after long discussion opened by Mr. Harry, Carlson of Newton Centre and Mr. Cycrett E. Kent of the School Committee. At a meeting of the Civic Club of Newton, held Tuesday, June 10, at the Newton Club a War Memorial in the hape of some kind of a building was endorsed. This action was taken after a leng discussion opened by Mr. Harry J. Carlson of Newton Centre and Mr. Everett E. Kent of the School Committee mittee.

Mr. Carlson said that the idea of War Memorials was not new as it goes back to the times of the Romans. But modern times are not like the old times. This is the era of democracy, the dawn of a new day. We need to stop and think socially, economically, religiously and in every way, so let us stop and think carefully of this problem of a memorial that is to endure signoisity and in every way, so let us to pand think carefully of this problem of a memorial that is to endure after we are gone, is to be as good or better than as when produced, and that is to worth ity remember those who fought and those who died in this great wer. What are to be the results of this war? What have all these deaths brought us? Are there to be new things on this earth or are we to sit complacently and be orthodox?

Surely in democracy there is a change, Surely in advoction there is to be a change for with 700,000 illiterates in our first draft we can scarcely imagine a more fitting memorial than the education of these 700,000 and their families. Surely there is to be a new development in world business. And surely

Hes. Surely there is to be a new development in world business. And surely a great and glorious development of reience. And is it too much to hope that out of it will come new influences in art, new theorems that will not compel us to fall back on the threadbare memorials of the Romans, the arch and the column.

But to understand these things we must go slowly, and in this we may learn from the past.

In Oct. of 1781, the sleeping city of To the heirs-at-law, next of kin, and all other persons interested in the estate of Louis N. Lupien late of Newton in said County, deceased. You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the twenty-fifth day of June A. D. 1919, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, Lincoln signed the most important locument ever penned by a President of the U. S. in Sept., 1862 (the Emanipation Proclamation) and we are just now in 1919 finishing a fitting memorial to the cause and war that Lincoln embodied.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic a newspaper published in Newton the last publication to be one day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court. Lion of Lucerne was executed in 1821, but the event it commemorated took place in 1792.

The choice of subject should not be made by architects alone or by any other one class, except representative citizens, men with no axes to grind, no friends to advance, no material to sell, all with one simple thought in mind, How can we best create a fitting memorial of those who fought and died in this great war.

I would put men upon it that can think, men who are always weighing think, men who are always weighing and balancing like our most excellent judges. I would have men who have achieved in business, and whose hearts achieved in business, and whose hearts are still warm for their fellow man. Finally the best of our men interested in the fine arts, but only if they are also interested as citizens and not as job getters.

This committee to examine suggestions, to originate ideas, and to finally report, one year from now or sooner if possible, but not to be hurried. The best never comes with haste. Then if the answer is a constructed structure right, both of Boston, Suffolk County, Massachusetts to Henry J. O'Meara and John J. McCarthy, as they are Trustees of the Bay State Development Company, acting under a declaration of trust dated June 28, 1916, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4064, Page 163, dated April 30, 1917, and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 4132, Page 234, for breach of the condition of said roortgage, and for the purpose of fore-closing the same, will be sold at public nuction on the premises on Saturday, July 5, 1919, at 9,15 o'clock in the morning, the real estate described in maid mortgage, to wit:

"The land in Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, with the buildings thereon, being shown as Lot Thirty (30) on a plan entitled "Greenwold, Bay State Development Co., Newton, Mass., July 1, 1916, Charles A. McManus, C. E. revised December 12, 1916", recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds, Plan Book 256, Plan 13, bounded and described as follows: the answer is a constructed structure or monument, then comes the very difor monument, then comes the very difficult matter of the choice of the designer. The most pushing are not always the ablest. The most retiring are often the men we want. After the civil war we wanted sculpture and for 20 years we had no sculpture, All the same with disastrous results. It may be that you will find two solutions to your minds well balanced. Then the possibility of obtaining a master mind, to design the one and the impossibility of getting anything but mediocrity to design the other would be a deciding factor.

Having made your choice you should pay the designer amply, and should give him all the time he wants. So far I have only discussed the monu-Deeds, Plan Book 255, Plan 13, bounded and described as follows:—
Southwesterly by Pricilla Road, Seventy-three and 2-10 (73.2) feet; Northwesterly by Lot No. 31 on said blan, One hundred nine and 9-10 (100.0) feet, and 100.00 feet, and 100.00 far I have only discussed the monu-ment. Equally important is the site. The committee that cannot find an adequate site for a perfect monument has not even half solved its problem. If it is to take a long time to create a real Newton monument, it might be possible to put, now, in each village green a beautiful flagstaff with sculp-tured bronze base inscriptions and names to keep alive the thought until the real monument was designed and Southeasterly by Lot No. 29 on said clan. built.

We have started a Park from Roxbury region to the Charles River and at present it has ended ingloriously at Beacon street, Chestnut Hill. This might be continued and the Parkway embellished with suitable war memorials such as was done too obviously in Boston. We might build a memorial hospital, where the veterans would have special privileges but, Carr Gilbert says, "the most impressive monument is one which appeals to the imagination alone, which rests not upon its idealism. From such monuments flow the impulse for great and for love of country."

If I have made you see the difficul-ties and made you willing to go slowly, then I am satisfied that a real start has been made. Let us have patience and let us have faith that when we have found the one super idea that just as surely we will find the means to carry it out.

to carry it out.

Mr. Kent said in part:
Our memorial is to be the gift of the present people, and the present community. If a later age is to give also, that may be well; but it will not be the gift of the community from which the sons and neighbors went forth. The memorial must be made with such resources of judgment, taste and art as the present community can command. It must be done while the shadow of good thing now for a memorial we may regret it because within the next few years some other good thing may be nvented which we should wish to give is really triffing. Attacking our present problem to discover to what the present memorial should relate, we may consider that it is to be a record of our reverence, pri-marily for the men who died, but also marily for the men who died, but also for those who went, and so showed their willingness to die. I believe that all such should be named. There was, however, a new and notable feature distinguishing this war from others in the wonderful organization of the men and women at home in support of those who were sent. Analyzing it in another way, there are to be commemorated first, the physical side of manhood, because, after all, war is a physihood, because, after all, war is a physical struggle, and it was physical endurance and power that sustained our men and carried them to victory; second, the ethical side, manifest in the spirit of service; and third, the political side, manifest in the civic and patriotic morale in support of democracy and the equal opportunity of the individual. We reflect on the physical side that this is not a memorial to the 47.3 per cent. of men in the draft between the ages of 21 and 31 who were rejected as physically unfit, nor, as ood, because, after all, war is a physi 47.3 per cent. of men in the draft between the ages of 21 and 31 who were rejected as physically unfit, nor, as Captain Cormerais has quoted, the four rejected out of each five considered for our own Company C; but it is a memorial to the physically fit. How better can they be honored than by instituting new proceedings which shall make others to be like them; which shall tend to maintain that kind of life whose value they have proved? On the ethical side, remembering that the spirit of service which is to be commemorated is non-sectarian, non-political, non class, and that in it the women have numerously taken a great and organized part, is it not fitting to take measures which shall help continue for our community the organized altruistic ideals and activities which were called into being in many citizens by this war? And in the third aspect, how can the civic and patriotic morale which is essential to a successful decalled into being in many citizens by this war? And in the third aspect, how can the civic and patriotic morale which is essential to a successful democracy be maintained for the future better than through the instrumentality of organized physical play? This also offers a solution of our problem of Americanization, for in mingling in the equal practice and contests of bodies and wits in various physical games, the aristocrat and the proletariat and the immigrant learn mutual respect parable to those in the larger life of a democracy, and learn fair play and the necessity for cooperation, which the race as a whole has learned and is learning only by centuries of toil. Our analysis then leads us to commemorating the men and the issues of the war by conceiving some form of memorial which shall first contain some purely idealistic memorial feature, whether it be a tower or a portico, or an arch, or approach, or interior interior ure, whether it be a tower or a portico, or an arch, or approach, or interior brine, with the names of the men who died and the others who went into service. Next, it should constitute some means of perpetuating in a living way our respect and approval for the ohysical, the ethical and the political elements and issues of the war, chosen and expressed in the spirit of the times; and the best way of doing this appears to be by providing, in connection with the idealistic feature, a large hall, and surrounding rooms and facilities. tion with the idealistic feature, a large hall, and surrounding rooms and facilities, which may serve as a place of physical and moral training, a civic auditorium, and headquarters for the organized non-partisan, voluntary welfare work of the City.

There was a general discussion of the subject in which Messrs. S. H. Whidden, Henry I. Harriman, Arthur Kendrick, Joseph B. Jamieson and William Price participated.

This is the month when the insect pents hatched out by the warm weather begin to do so much damage. A number of them are already at work in the home girdens. Constant watch is necessary in order to control these pests for they frequently do much damage to young plants before being discovered.

Aphids or plant lice are fond of all garden vegetables but do most damage to peas, cabbages, potatoes and tomatoes. They are a sucking insect and cannot be controlled by the use of arsenical poisons or fungicides. They must be killed by some material that causes death by suffocation or by burning by contact. Use 11-2 teaspoonfuls of "Black Leaf 40" and 1 cubic inch of common laundry soap to one gallon of water. Spray the plants for lice frequently. Cutworms are raising havoc this year where no means have been taken to combat them. When setting out a few tomato plants, cabbage plants or the like, place a small paper collar around the stem of the plant to prevent the cutworms from reaching the stem and severing it. Another successful method is to sprinkle poison bait around the plants in the evening. Cabbage root maggots have Cabbage root maggots have been most destructive this year. The only means of control for these pests is to place a tarred paper disc around the stem of each cabbage plant when it is set out. In a great many gardens this year the cabbage root maggot has attacked the radish crop causing the radishes to wilt and die. There is no method of control worth while for these maggots on the radish crop.

Cabbage worms are another serious.

Cabbage worms are another serious est. When you find large holes eaten in the cabbage leaves, examine the plant carefully and remove the velvety plant carefully and remove the velvety green worms. Also crush the yellow egg clusters that may be found on the under side of the leaves. These small block beetles are not serious, however for they can easily be controlled by an application of Bordeaux mixture and arsenate of lead which should be applied about every 10 days.

Many people are having trouble this spring with the grape plume-moth. This insect is a white fuzzy caterpillar that prevents the growth of the new canes by wrapping up the leaves on the end. Open up the leaves and kill the insect. Spraying is not practical as the new leaves grow so fast it would have to be done every few days.

The usual recitals have been given at the Peirce School Assembly Hall. At these recitals the ensemble work of the Violin Department, under Julia Pickard Stoessel, has shown great progress and is an increasing attraction. Beginning in the first years of the School with groups of three or four (usually very tiny) players, and with simplest folk-song arrangements, this ensemble work has arrived at the time when it can begin to call itself "The Orchestra"—though still depending for its wind instruments on friendly adult organizations, which help out on special occasions. GREENS FOR GUMPTION

How much will you spend to avoid that tired feeling?"
Now is the time for health insurnce at bargain prices!
The price of spinach and beet

The price of spinach and beet greens is at the present time as low greens is at the present time as low as it is likely to go, much lower than the growers care to see it. 'In many places spinach is being ploughed under because it is not considered a paying proposition to market it.

Are the Middlesex County housewives aware of the loss that this means to them? Is not the health of the family the best investment to be made? Why feed to the soil or to the stock something that means so much to the well-being of the household?

A lack of greens next winter will

A lack of greens next winter will mean a lack of mineral matter in the diet, resulting in "that tired feeling" when spring comes again. It is very costly to try and cure that feeling with drugs. It is thrifty common sense to prevent it by means of proper food.

One peck of greens will fill two pint jars. If every household in the county should buy one bushel and can it for next winter, it would save for human consumption, something diet, resulting in "that tired feeling" can it for next winter, it would save for human consumption something that no one can cut out of the diet without suffering for it. Green food will win the war against unbalanced meals. Every housewife who starts the fashion of canning greens this week, is doing a service to her household and her town.

Uncle Sam's directions for canning greens are as follows: Can greens the day they are picked. Wash clean, sort thoroughly, allowing no foreign the day they are picked. Wash clean, sort thoroughly, allowing no foreign weed leaves or other vegetable matter to remain. Rid the greens of all sand, dirt, dry, and decayed or diseased leaves. Place the greens in a crate or cheese-cloth and blanch in live steam either in an improvised homemade steamer or regular commercial steamer for 15 minutes. Remove the greens and plunge quickly into cold greens and plunge quickly into cold water. Place on the table and cut into water. Place on the table and cut into convenient lengths. Pack tight in hot jars or tin cans. Ad hot water to fill the container and season to taste. The product will be slightly improved if a few strips of boiled bacon or chipped beef are added. A little olive oil also improves the flavor. Place rubbers and tops in position on jars; partially seal. Sterilize in water bath for 120 minutes.

Remove from canner; tighten covers of jars; invert to cool, and test the joints. Wrap in paper to prevent bleaching, and store.

Here is a rule for making spinach loaf which is as good now as during the war. Any other greens may be substituted. You can make a small can of spinach, chard, or beet tops serve seven or eight people by making erve seven or eight people by making serve seven or eight people by making into a loaf combined with rice or bread crumbs. Industrial Arts

Besides the ball game Saturday, there were held two Athletic Meets, making it a big day on the Y. M. C. A. field. After the baseball victory Newton set to and got her field ready for an Athletic Meet with Somerville and Boston. The juniors and seniors of the above Y. M. C. A.'s participated. The winners of the standard events run off are as follows:—

Juniors, 50 yd. dash—1st, Widner, Newton, time 6 4-5 seconds; 2nd, Jones of Boston; 3rd, Gould of Boston.

Juniors, 100 yd. dash—1st, Jones of Boston; 2nd, Widner of Newton; 3rd, Widner of Newton; 3rd, Mills of Somerville. Time, 12 secs.

Relay Race—Won by Boston.

Total Junior Points:—Boston, 14; Newton, 9; Somerville, 4. the chief features of the atternoon.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts department during the Summer term will be in charge of Mr. Holman, who will have Master Wilfred Cormier for his assistant. During this short term we aim to turn out some large pieces of work.

During the presnt school year we have turned out several sets of book shelves, double picture frames with shelves for ornaments, sand tables, two large desks, a library table of oak, some caned leg rests, baby swings, kidicars, wheelbarrows, and numerous smaller articles.

Several pairs of shoes were repared by a new class in shoe repairing also.

This department has done nearly all the furniture repairing of two school buildings, beside its regular manual

Our print shop has also contributed a good assortment of work for the use of the School Department as well as our own school.

Simple exercises will be held in the School Assembly Hall, on Monday, June 23rd, at two o'clock. Mayor Childs will present the diplomas. The prizes for the three best essays on Historical subjects will be presented by the President of the Daughters of the Revolution. Mrs. Edwin P. Leon-

FUNNY NOTIONS ABOUT Y.M.C.A.

The Canteen Produces a Strange Crop of Fables—Ludicrous Misunderstandings.

The war has brought the Y. M. C. into world prominence. Because of is prominence, constant questions have arisen with reference to it in the minds of the uninformed and me most ludicrous statements have been passed about.

For instance, we have it on the word of a good friend, former secretary of the Y. M. C. A., that a soldier in one of the southern camps came o him to express his appreciation of all that the Y had done for him, and said that he was doing all he could to help the "Y." Some one asked him cases the story has been solemnly passed about that the Y. M. C. A. was a great stock corporation and that stock was paying big dividends, its stock was paying big dividends, on account of the canteen earnings. The inventor of the story did not, of course, understand the difference between a voluntary religious corporation and a stock corporation for business purposes.

On the other hand some of the folks back home have contributed to the first Y. M. C. A. gave away everything the soldier needed, falling to realize that the sums contributed to Y. M. C. A war work if used in that way would be but a proverbial drop in the bucket. The Y. M. C. A. did give the first Y. M. C. A. did give the f that the sums contributed to Y. M. C. A war work if used in that way would be but a proverbial drop in the . The Y. M. C. A. did give vast quantities of supplies, such as tobacco, hot cocoa, chocolate, etc., to men in the front line trenche. and those coming back from battle, but the great bulk of the money contributed was used for the wonderful service program of the Y. M. C. A.

The canteen received none of this cled entirely for the government on borrowed capital on a flat cost turn over basis, as a convenience to the men who could not get those supplies

They were, however, in the front line and went over the top with our boys. Witness the hazards that have overtaken some of our own New England men. Remember the story of Edward Sherman of West Roxbury, who served in the "Y" outfit of the Second Sterman of West Roxbury, who served in the "Y" outfit of the Second Division, who saw his bunkle, James Birchby, given his orders to go West by a machine gun bullet. Sherman, himself, sampled two kinds of gas, and lay in a hospital for weeks. Harry Chase of South Braintree just returned from France with the marks of exhausting service and exposure to the acids of war in his face. It was arsenle gas that almost finished his career as a "Y" secretary. In the October drive he was driven back by shell fire from taking supplies to another secretary who was killed in the same drive. Voorhees of Hartford came home to die of his wounds. Solon Borglum of Connecticut, and eleven other "Y" men received the Croix de Guerre, and two more were cited for that decoration. Henry Smith, etc. Polyak Wass. was hall. Kathery Broderick, Ruth. Perhaps the funniest part of all these ludicrous misunderstandings is the fact that some of our most intelligent people here at home, hear them, accept them without question and pass them on.

This is a funny world.

THE Y'S INFINITE VARIETY.

Paris, February—The many-sidedness of the work of the Y. M. C. A. In France was illustrated recently at a conference of forty of its secretaries at Dijon. Most of the criticism against the
"Y" as brought back and written said that he was doing all he could to help the "Y." Some one asked him what he was doing, and his reply was that he bought all his postage stamps there, and it developed that he really thought the Y. M. C. A. made a profit from the sale of postage stamps which they sold in such enormous quantities to the soldiers as a matter of convenience.

Another ridiculous assertion on the pert of men who have come in contact with the Y. M. C. A. for the first time, emanates from overseas, and we hear the statement, in all seriousness by somebody who professes to know, that the Y. M. C. A. is making a great deal of money from its canteen and is even over-charging the soldiers. Of course, the story would not be complete without inventing some way of utilizing these alleged large earnings from the canteen. In some cases the story goes that the local Y. M. C. Through them a great humanizing process began, by which the Y. M. C. A. has been fairly transformed, with a splendid augury for greater and more efficient service in the future than it has ever performed in the last. Its programme was early recognized as essential to military ficiency and I violate no secrets the military authorities, not only the American army but also of the French and Italian armies as well, when I say that the "Y" programme could not have been dispensed with except at the cost of prolonging th war and delaying the victory.

And I may add that they seriously considered the possibility of organiz-ing some other force to do this work in the camps, and ended by turning everything over the Y. M. C. A. and giving the Association carte blanche and hearty support. The French looked at it for months askance on account of the "C" in the name, but ended by asking for 1,000 French-peaking American secretaries and speaking American secretaries and their staffs. And although the "Y" was already burdened by the service demanded of it in the American Ex-peditionary Forces, the response was in the affirmative and today the "Y" supervises the operation of 1,500 Foyers du Soldat in the French army. The Italians did the same and more than 250 American workers are now In Italy, where three times that num-ber of natives have been assigned to assist in the carrying on of the "Y"

Americans withdrew. I saw the "Y" in operation from Cited for that decoration. Henry Smith of Beverly. Mass., was badly wounded on October 16; Rev. Joel Metcalf of Winchester, Mass., with the 3rd Division, was gassed the same day. We wonder where these "Y" secretaries "met up" with the bullets, gas, and shells if not in the danger zone.

Perhaps the funniest part of all the workers and the way across the west-sen front, on the two fronts in Italy, on the Isonze, and in the mountains of the Trentino. The "Y" programme repulsed the greatest enemy of an army, the boredom that settles over fighting forces com that settles over ignting forces between battles and over such branches as the S. O. S. and as such was a great war-winning contribution. The "Y" gave the soldier a home, a club, a library, a concert hall, a church, a theatre, and an athletic field and stadium, but first, last, and best of all-a Home.

SUCCESSFUL OUTING

Members of the Newton Board of Trade Enjoy an Afiernoon at Nahant

The Newton Board of Trade held the most successful outing in its history on Wednesday afternoon when nearly a hundred business men of the city made an automobile trip to Bass Point, Nahant.

The party assembled in the early afternoon near the Newton railroad station, where they were greeted by President John H. Gordon and Secretary Harold Moore and assigned to the waiting automobiles.

The trip to Nahant took more time than usual, as President Gordon in the leading car, got off the track and led the procession into a cul-de-sac "somewheres in Somerville" but all eventually arrived at the Bass Point House. The first thing on the program was a ball game, captained respectively by President Gordon and Alderman As a ball game, captained respectively by President Gordon and Alderman As a ball game, captained respectively by President Gordon and Alderman As a ball game, captained respectively by President Gordon and Alderman As a ball game, captained respectively by President Gordon and Alderman As a ball game, captained respectively by President Gordon and Alderman As a ball game, captained respectively by President Gordon and Alderman As a ball game, captained respectively by President Gordon and As a complete the procession into a cul-de-sac "some where is not to be a complete to explain how he did it. Troop 2 of Auburndale Gives an Interesting Exhibition on Friday Evening

Friday evening, June 20th, Troop 2
Newton Boy Scouts, held its last meeting in the Methodist Parish House, Auburndale. Parents and friends were invited. The meeting began at 7.30 with presentation of colors and without any business proceeded to the work of the meeting which consisted of a first aid competition for the first aid kits offered by Scoutmaster Hilliard the first of the year. These first aid kits contain all things which are necessary for a scout in any accident which he might be near. The patrols in competition were the

The patrols in competition were the Flying Eagle, George Harding, patrol leader; the Bear. Cedric Valentine, patrol leader, and the Eagle, Charles Hilliard, patrol leader. The patrols came on separately no patrol seeing any other one do its work until it had done its own one its own.

DEATH OF MRS. WARREN

Mrs. Cora B. (Cain) Warren, wife of John W. Warren, of 450 Winchester street, Newton Highlands, died last week Thursday, after an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Warren was 59 years of age and a native of Vernon, Vt. She had been a resident in the city for 30 years. Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, the Misses Gertrude S. and M. Almira Warren.

Funeral services were held Saturday at her late home. The Rev. George W. Jones of the Cline Memorial Methodist Church officiated and the interment was in the Newton Cemetery.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The summer session of the play-grounds will open on Tuesday after-moon, July 1st. The playgrounds enu-merated below will have men or wo-men directors, or both, every day from 9 to 11.20 in the morning and from dark.

The parents are urged to see that the children go to the playgrounds when the supervisors can be expected to be there. This instruction regarding the time would be in the interest of the children. All playgrounds will be without supervision on rainy days.

If there are enough children in the Waban district, and the parents desire it, the Waban playground will also be opened. Thus far only about a dozen girls have signified their desire to take the Girls' Health League Course.

Four hundred girls have already enrolled for the Girls' Health League Training. This course is given in cooperation with the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs, who have furnished a splendid and very complete doll outfit for this purpose. There is a washable doll, with a complete equipment of clothing, a beautiful crib, and a complete set of tollet articles, bath tub, thermometer, etc. Also an equipment for sterilizing milk and taking care of bottles. This course teaches mothercraft and lays emphasis on the care of young babies.

NEW DAY AT HAND

World Sees the Dawn of Universal Democracy.

With the Downfall of the Turk and the Hun Santa Sophia Will Be Restored as a Chris-

Among the happy rejoicings of these victory days we are inexpressibly glad that the war did not end until the unspeakable Turk was well started down the toboggan of defeat toward the bottomiess pit, writes Dr. Charles Edward Locke. It is a mighty triumph for democracy. With Jerusa-lem and Damascus in the hands of the Christians, and with Constantinople no longer desecrated as the capital of a filthy Mohammedanism, the foul Turk is now getting his long-delayed de-serts. Constantinople was named for a zealous Christian prince. It was made the imposing headquarters of the Greek church, and a beautiful temple was built in the year 537 by Justinian which is so stately and gorgeous that this proud builder on the dedication day exclaimed: "O Solomon, I have surpassed thee!"

by the sacrilegeous and infidel Saraand for 465 years it has been center of Moslem worship and propaganda. It is beautifully situated on the western slopes of the Bosporous, and looks out upon the picturesque Marmora. Justinian's minister grand was transformed into a Moslem mosque. All the altars and crosses and frescoes and insignia of Christianity were ruthlessly removed, and for nearly five centuries, instead of the worship of the most-high God resounding beneath a wonderful dome which Michael Angelo said was like a part of the heavens brought down to earth, it has been the scene of Mo-

With the victories of this war, no doubt magnificent Santa Sophia will be restored, and once again the praises of Christ will resound through sanctuary and cloister; and the marvelous fresco of Jesus and his disciples in the high dome, which for cen turies has been concealed behind the incrustations of a detestable Moslemism, will once again utter its inspiring and artistic messages to reverent Christian worshipers. The overthrow of the Turk is not only a triumph of democracy, but it is likewise a mighty victory for the truth and justice which are interpreted to the world by the gos pel of the Son of God and the Son of Man, Jesus Christ of Nazareth.

Until the savage Prussian Hun appeared the Turk had conferred upon him the ignominy of being the most history. A religion of lust, re-enforced by the bloody scimiter, the Turk cut his way through human bodies to an ignoble place of power in Europe and Asia and his murderous hate venting itself on the defenseless Christians, and especially, upon the innocent Armenians.

With the collapse of the Turkish government, "the Dardanelles will be-come a highway for the commerce of the free nations of the world, in place of a waterway held by pirates;" the Balkan terror comes to an end, and the ignoble crescent fades out of sight before the increasing effulgence of the blazing cross of the Christ of truth and freedom.

The years have waited long for the tremendous historic events which are now being enacted in bewildering suc cession. It was only yesterday that there were four powerful autocracies that seemed so intrenched in opulence and might that the centuries would not overthrow; but today, Russia, and Austria, and Turkey, and Germany, have all fallen, and great has been the fall thereof; the twilight of the kings has deepened into night, and the dawn of universal democracy is al-ready reddening the eastern sky with ready reddening the eastern sky with premonitions of the new day of the people; and the harbingers of the old bells are of great historic interest. All except the treble were cast at the old Whitechapel bell foundry—the tenor, weighing 1½ tons, in 1738, the fifth in 1593, the fourth and secthe fifth in 1993, the fourth and sec-ond in 1743, and the third in 1583. The treble was cast probably at the end of the thirteenth or the beginning of the fourteenth century, and must therefore have rung out to celebrate the great victory over the Spanish armada in 1588. Whitechapel foun-dry, which has been working continuously since 1570, has been intrusted with the restoration work and the casting of the new bells. The connection of the old firm with the abbey after nearly 350 years, is thus being continued.

Newton Highlands BRED GREAT MEN

Italian City of Florence May Claim High Honor.

Birthplace of Many of Those Who Rank, in Intellectual Ability and Achievement, Far Above the Rest of Mankind.

At first thought one would be apt to claim for London, the great metrop olis, the honor of having given birth to the greatest number of the world's geniuses

Among other great Londoners the following might be cited: Francis Bacon, philosopher and essayist; Spen-ser, Jonson, Milton and Keats, worldknown and honored poets; Hogarth, Turner, Watts, Millais and Holman Hunt, artists whose achievements are acclaimed by all the world of taste; Fox, Pitt and Beaconsfield, statesmen who have influenced the building of empire; Daniel Defoe, the novelist; Faraday and Huxley, the scientists, and many others. All these would stand in the very front ranks of greatness, some of them, like Milton and Bacon, towering above their fellow men like mountain peaks among mole hills.

stand up for the claims of Paris, quoting a long list of poets and painters and novelists and statesmen to justify

The Italian would probably put the question: "How far back may we go in this quest? For it ancient Rome is to be added to the record of the more modern city, where will you find her equal?"

Then Athens would lift up her class sic voice in protest, and quote a long list of her sons who have formed the models of all subsequent time in art and poetry and philosophy and architecture.

But there is another competitor which can beat them all in this combat. Compared with London or Paris, or even Rome, it is a small place.

The closing entertainment of the Junior Christian Endeavor Society of the Congregational Church was held Thursday evening. Two short plays were given. The first, "Human Owls," told of a boy who had thought it would be fun to be up all night, but was brought to a realization of what this meant by a dream in which the toilers of the night showed him what they did during the night that he might be well and comfortable. The second play, "Alice through a Postal Carry" and position of this close the small place. The city is Firenze—Florence—the native city of Boxtonarola, of Fra Angelo, the glory of the mighty Michael Angelo, the glory of his age and of all succeeding ages: Florence—the native city of Soxonarola, of Fra Angeloi, of Donatello, of Botticelli, of Leonardo da Vinci, of the mighty Michael Angelo, the glory of his age and of all succeeding ages: Florence—the native city of Soxonarola, of Fra Angeloi, of the mighty Michael Angelo, the glory of his age and of all succeeding ages: Florence—the native city of Soxonarola, of Fra Angelo, the glory of his age and of all succeeding ages: Florence—the native city of Soxonarola, of Fra Angelo, the glory of his age and of all succeeding ages: Florence—the native city of Soxonarola, of Fra Angelo, the glory of the might Michael Angelo, the glory of his age and of all succeeding ages: Florence—the native city of Soxonarola, of Fra Angelo, the glory of box and value city of Soxonarola, of Fra Angelo, the glory of his age and of all succeeding ages: Florence—the native city of Soxonarola, of Fra Angelo, the glory of his age and of all succeeding ages: Florence—the native city of Soxonarola, of Fra Angelo, of Donatello, of Botticelli, of Leonardo da Vinci, of the might she well control to the might she well of th stars of the first magnitude. How such a small place ever gave birth to so many mighty sons of genius is one of the standing puzzles of heredity and environment and edu-cation. Why does not Glasgow breed geniuses? Nobody knows. During a period of two hundred years Florenc was a forcing bed for supreme achieve ment. During that time the little city broke all records, ancient and mod-ern, and it is hard to see where her competitor is to spring from who shall take away her crown of laurels.

Some War Economies.

There is probably nothing that seems so useless in the eyes of the which has begun to rot, but the de partment of agriculture in its war-time experiments has discovered that starch can be made from a decayed potate just as well, if not better, than from a good one, and so the surplus stock of the farmer or dealer need no longer be thrown away or wasted.

In like fashion chemists seeking methods to avoid world-wide food shortages have found that sugar can not only be made from beets, from sweet potatoes as well. farmer himself can make good strup from his sweet potatoes by boiling them until they can be mashed in the water to thick, mushy liquid. To this ground malt is added and the result after properly cooking for about an hour, is a thick sirup, which is strained through a cloth and used for any sort

Modest Hero

My heroic action was this: We were lying close up to their defenses, and for four days had not been able to climb out; we lay like reptiles. Miss Marian Keep, Editor REFRESHING DRINKS

How many mothers would rather have their children enjoy the shade from the trees in their own yard than to use up their strength and energy running to the drug store to invest their last six cents in some prepared drink. Have you ever thought of the expense, how much it means when the expense, how much it means when the waynesters spend most of their weekly.

drink. Have you ever thought of the expense, how much it means when the youngsters spend most of their weekly allowance for flavored water and that is about all it amounts to.

Would you think of only rinsing your glasses in cold water after using them at each meal, and yet that is the state of affairs at the fountain, and you are perfectly willing your children should patronize the druggist.

Certainly warm weether is conducive to auto trips and how warm and thirsty one is after riding in the heat. Is it the drug store that one seeks? Why not fill your thermos bottle with a cool drink prepared with your own materials at home.

Here are some suggestions which will not only satisfy the thirst of the grown ups on their outing, but will also please the children when they ask for an afternoon tea party.

"BEST" MONTH | Demonstration Home Garden

In February were born Charles Dickens, Pepys the diarist, and Thomas Moore, while of more modern date and fame are George Meredith, Israel Zangwill, Anthony Hope, Harrison Ainsworth and Wilkie Collins.

Pope and Addison were both born in May, as also were Browning, Rossetti, Moore, Bulwer Lytton, Thomas Hood, Jerome K. Jerome, and Sir James M. Barric. August seems to be the birthmonth of poets, for in that month were born Dryden, Herrick, Scott, Shelley, Southey and Tennyson.

Apparently November is an unlucky month for literary people, for among those who were born in November are Thomas Chatterton, who, in disappoint ment and poverty, committed suicide at eighteen; William Cowper, who suf-fered from melancholia and suicidal mania, and finally died insane; Oliver Goldsmith, continually in prison for debt; John Bunyan, who spent 12 years in prison, thereby giving us "Pilgrim's Progress;" Swift, subject to fits of passion and ill-humor, died insane; Robert Louis Stevenson suffered from almost continual ill-health, and died at forty-four,
So much for the "favored months."

Of the others, January saw the birth of Bobbie Burns, Byron and Lewis Carrol, author of "Alice in Wonderland," who was also a famous mathe

March was the birthmonth of Smollett and Steele, as also of Elizabeth Barrett Browning. In April was born the greatest genius the English language has known, William Shakespeare, while among others born in this month were Wordsworth, Keble, Heber, Swinburne and Herbert. Charlotte Bronte and Anthony Trollope were also born in this month

June is not a very good month, Charles Reade and Charles Kingsley being the only two writers. July gave us Thackeray and George Bernard Shaw, and those interested in astrology may find a resemblance between the two satirists.

September and October were both oor months, Mrs. Hemans and H. G. Wells being born in September and Coleridge, Keats and Sheridan in Oc-

Finally Milton, Gray and Matthew Arnold were born in December, as were also Jane Austin and Carlyle. So there is hope for most people as far as birthmonths are concerned.

Reproducing the Talmud.

One of the circumstances due to the war is that it has been found necessary to reproduce the plates for printing the Hebrew Talmud, originally produced in the town of Wil na, Russia. When this city was captured by Germany the electrotypes of the Talmud, it is reported, were used for ammunition. To reset the work in Hebrew would take years with an ordinary outfit.

It was found necessary that the plates should be made by photo-engrav-ing, and this work is now being done in Montreal under the auspices of the Union of Orthodox Rabbis of the United States and Canada.

The Talmud contains 9,000 pages, 8 by 14, and it is divided into 18 volume second is in print now. It is estimated that it will take about two years be fore the work is completed.

Army Animals Bought Abroad.

United States expeditionary forces in overseas service were taken from this country. More than twice as many were bought abroad. The total number of animals purchased overseas to January 11, 1919, is 152,336. Purchases of horses in France amounted to 109,848; in Spain, 1,531; and in Great Britain, 11,898. The value of purchases in France was $43,122,094 Spain, $589,160; and Great Britain 025.965 for 123.277 horses purchased overseas. The total number of mule purchased overseas amounted to 29, 059, with a value of $11,115,847. There were 9.341 mules, valued at $2,895.928 purchased in France; 12.941 mules with a value of $5,619,156, purchased in Spain; and 6,777 mules, valued at $2,600,763, purchased in Great Britain.

Special Naval Uniforms

Uniforms having distinctive insignia have been designed by the shipping board for the young apprentices now in training at the various school ships An embroidered anchor under the na tional shield, worked into the of the blouse pocket, and two broad white stripes on collar and cuff, in stend of three narrow ones, as worn by the navy, will constitute the Insignia by which one may discriminate between the men of the merchant ma-rine and resembling those worn by the regular men of the navy.

Time of Birth Has Little to Do With Genius.

Statistics Show That Nature Practically Plays No Favorites in Her Production of the Gifted Ones of the Earth.

Astrologers believe that the planets "reigning" at the time of birth govern us throughout life, and that, from a literary point of view certain months are more favorable than others in which to be born.

It is now time for the home gardener to think about the crops he will plant to succeed his early spring plantings. Spinach, radishes and lettuce have "gone by" in most gardenes and early peas will soon be harvested and pulled up. The question naturally arises in the minds of many gardeners—"What shall I plant now?"

Shell beans may be planted up to July 10th. Beets and carrots for winter use may be sown as late as the middle of July and very satisfactory results obtained. Cos lettuce is an excellent variety to plant during the summer than the other varieties. Kohl-Rabi is an excellent vegetable that grows quickly. are more favorable than others in which to be born.

Taking the hundred best British writers since the day of Chaucer, no less than forty-eight were born in the four months February, May, August and November.

In February were born Charles Dickens, Pepys the diarist, and Thomas Moore, while of more modern date than the other varieties, Kohl-Rabi is an excellent vegetable that grows quickly. It should not be planted later than the second week in July. Cauliflower plants may now be set out although gardeners as a rule find them somewhat difficult to raise.

See to it that your root crops are thinned before they commence to crowd. Thin beets to 2 inches apart in the row and when the young beets crowd. Thin beets to 2 inches apart in the row and when the young beets begin to crowd, thin again. Let your beets grow 6 inches or more in height before thinning as they make the best greens at this stage. The following distances are about right-to leave between vegetables when thinning—carrots 2 1-2—3 inches, parsnips 4 inches, beans 2 inches, corn in drill 6 inches, chard 6 inches, New Zealand spinach, 12 inches and pole beans, squash and cucumbers 4 to 6 plants to the hill.

If your vegetables are growing slowly spread a pinch of sodium nitrate around the plants and hoe it into the soil. Another way to apply this plant soil. Another way to apply this plan stimulant is to dissolve a teaspoonfu of it in a quart of water and sprinkle the soil around the plants with it tak the soil around the plants with it tak-ing care not to touch the foliage with the nitrate. Sodium nitrate produces fine results on all plants grown for their leaves.

If you wish to raise some good early

If you wish to raise some good early tomatoes work into the soil around the plant a small handful of acid phosphate. Then make three or four applications about 10 days apart of sodium nitrate to the plants.

Tomato plants should be trained to two stems and tied up to a stake. This method of training keeps the vines up off the ground and allows the sunlight to reach every part of the plant. This induces earliness in the crop, produces better fruit and lessens the blossom and rot trouble. All lateral branches should be nipped off. These grow from the junction of the main stem and a leaf. The fruit stems grow out from the main stem isted is self so there should be no trouble in distinguishing them no trouble in distinguishing them from lateral branches.

Many gardeners have the idea that a garden should be watered every day during a dry spell. This is a bad practice as it tends to draw the plants roots toward the surface. The garden drys out quickly the next day and a crust forms on the surface which produces a condition for a rand evanoration of forms on the surface which produces a condition for a rapid evaporation of moisture from the soil. Frequent cultivation of the garden does more good than several waterings. This is especially true in hot dry weather. If your garden needs water, soak it thoroughly in the evening and next day give it ag ood cultivation so it will hold the moisture. A garden should be culthe moisture. A garden should be cultivated after every heavy rain.

June 16th, Newton carpenters went on strike for $1.00 per hour, an increase of over 40 per cent.—a much larger increase than they are striking for in Boston, where they have been out since May 12th.

The Newton Builders' Association would like to go on record as having tried to avert this tie up of what little work there is being done at the present time.

The Carpenters' District Council asked for a conference with the Newton Builders' Association for June 5th. At this conference the District Council through its representative made a proposition that the builders make a settlement on 85 cents per hour until the Boston strike was settled. After some discussion the Newton Builders' Association made a counter proposition of 75 cents per hour;—an increase of 40 cents per day to take effect at once, and when the Boston strike is settled pay whatever is settled on the strike is settled pay whatever is settled.

STOOD FOR HUMAN LIBERTY

Jean Jacques Rousseau Had Right Conception of Conditions That Made for Freedom.

Prof. Kenneth Colegrove of Syracuse university declares that world de-mocracy is the sole basis of world peace. Writing in the World's Work

In the year 1713, when the ambassa dors of the European powers were engaged at the congress of Utrecht in bringing to a close the War of the Spanish Succession, the Abbe de Saint-Pierre was writing the final pages of his little treatise called the "Project for Perpetual Peace." He proposed confederation of the kings and princes of Europe, with a congress or diet of ambassadors where all disputes between the different states should be settled by arbitration, and where general rules should be adopted from time to time for the purpose of promoting the peace and welfare of each and every realm. Rousseau criticized the abbe's plan, declaring it contained one flaw, a flaw which vitiated the other-Inderhill received the degree of Bachelor or Buropean states could never be formed so long as kings and princes ruled. For the essence of kingship was nothing else than the passion to extend its dominion without and its absolutism within; and no plan of confederation, Rousseau was convinced, would ever be able to quench the old fires of rivalry and despotism. But even if a general alliance of European monarchs were possible, it was manifestly impossible to guarantee princes against the revoit of their people unless at the same time subjects were given a guaranty against the tyranny of their rulers. In launch

He believed that a confederation of European states the tyranny of their rulers. In launching this latter criticism against the abbe's project the author of the "Social Contract" foresaw the contingency of the Holy Alliance of 1815, when the autocrats of Europe called the Indivisible Trinity to witness that, as brothers of the same family, they would defend the doctrine of the divine right of kings against the contradiction of revolution wherever it should appear.

Yet more trenchant was the criticism of Voltaire. "The peace imag-ined by the Abbe de Saint-Pierre," said the philosopher of Fernay, "is a chimera which could no more subsist be-tween princes than between elephants and rhinoceroses, or between wolves and dogs. Carnivorous animals rush to attack each other on all occasions." The "Project for Perpetual Peace," according to Voltaire, was not absurd in itself, but in the manner of its proposal. There would always be wars of ambition and conquest, until people learned that it was only a small number of generals and ministers who

Name Mountain "Roosevelt." Impressive ceremonies attended by many soldier and civilian friends of the former president will mark the dedication of Mount Theodore Roosevelt on July 4.

Shortly after the death of Colonel Roosevelt the pioneers of the Black Hills met at Deadwood, S. D., and decided to change the name of Sheep mountain, near Deadwood, to Mount Theodore Roosevelt. Feeling that the spirit of Independence day typified the ideals of the late president it was decided to postpone the formal cere-mony until then.

Invitations have been sent to scores of Colonel Roosevelt's friends by Col. Seth Bullock. Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood will deliver the dedicatory address. Gifford Pinchot, Secretary Lane and many other national figures will be Woman's Remarkable Feat.

The American flag and the British jack flew side by side from the mast of a British warship for the first time in the history of the post of Bremer-ton, Wash., when Mrs. Bertha Savage, an employe of the industrial di-vision of the navy yard, on a dare, climbed to the top of the mast on H. M. S. Lancaster as she lay in dock

Mrs. Savage, better known to the yard employes as "Montana Liz," has been at the yard for several months. She comes from the ranges in Montana and is well known for her cow boy attire and her picturesque vocab ulary. Her feat in climbing to the top of the 139-foot mast was no mean accomplishment for a woman. The ship's crew watched the stunt with great interest and enthusiastically cheered the climber.

Oxen Again Beasts of Burden.

The ox as a beast of burden is com-ing into its own again in the farming communities of the state, according to dispatch from Lewiston, Me., and the oxsling and apparatus used by blacksmiths in shocing the animals, long ago thrown into the discard, is in use again. The sling consists of a rude frame of timber into which the animal is fastened by a pillory. Straps are then drawn under the body, the ends being made fast to upper timbers of the frame. In blacksmith shops 20 years ago the slings were common. Oxen are less expensive to feed than horses and are equally as useful on small farms, and the rising value of feed is having much to do with the comeback of the ox as a work animal

The Food For Those Who Seek Achievement

"I only wish to point out," says Dr. McCollum of Johns Hopkins University, "that milk is an INDISPENSABLE article of diet of any people who wish to achieve.

"Without the continued use of milk, not only for the feeding of our children, but in liberal amounts in cookery and as an adjunct to our diet, we cannot as a nation maintain the position as a world power to which we have arisen."

The average daily milk consumption per capita in this country is LESS THAN HALF A PINT!

Drink more milk. It's good for you.

Congress Shoes Come Back

There has been a very decided revivor the old "congress gaiter," with its elastic insert at the sides, which were very generally worn more than a quarter of a century ago. The explan ation rests in the fact that American shoes are now being extensively worn by the natives of Japan. The more repid adoption of the western styles of lace and button shoes is made difficult by the native custom that requires that shoes be removed before a person enters a home or inn. In some cases it is even required that the shoes be removed or at least covered with cloth protectors before entering shops, thea-ters and similar public buildings. This custom has led to the quite general adoption of the old-fashioned but convenient "congress" boot by those who wear occidental footwear during busi-

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Mr. Robert Warden Williamson, for

Mr. Robert Warden Williamson, for many years a well known resident of West Newton, died suddenly last night in the Booth Theatre, New York City. Mr. Williamson was in New York on a business trip and while in the theatre was taken ill. He was taken out of the cheatre but died before an ambulance, which was summoned to take him to the hospital, had arrived.

Mr. Williamson was born in Albany, N. Y., August 18, 1861, and came to West Newton about 1894 to reside. Hemarried Miss Elizabeth Freeman Metcalf, the daughter of the late Albert Metcalf, and resided on Highland street, in the house now occupied by Mr. Crooker. The family removed to Beacon street, Coolidge Corner, several years ago. Mr. Williamson served as a member of the aldermen from 1908 to 1912.

He was the senior member of the firm of Williamson & Sleener, dealers firm of Williamson & Sleener, dealers for the summer.

ALWAYS HAS HOPE

Place Where Mother Sat is Forever Sacred in the Memories of Her Children. Prospector for Gold One of Fortunate Men.

By the window in the sitting room stood the old chair. It was "moth-er's chair"—otherwise it would have been just a chair. With mother in With Belief in One's Luck to Be however, it became a shrine to which "Just Ahead" the Buffets of Fate flocked her devoted little worshipers.

In the rocker, as we sat on mother's knee or at her side—for the chair Are Things at Which to Laugh.

was generously made—the bumped bead and the bruised heart were healed, says a writer in the People's The typical prospector for gold, still met with in the far hills and deserts, may well be taken by all men as an Home Journal. Frightened, we found there a safe retreat, a refuge from ev-ery harm. At night the bedtime story ple and an inspiration as far the blessings of staying hopes are concerned, says the Los Angeles was told to the rhythm of its soothing swing. Joys, sorrows, all were brought to its encircling arms. Mother's chair,

"Hope deferred maketh the heart sick," says the proverb. But it is not a good proverb. No matter how long deferred a hope may be it should never be abandoned. It should never be anything but an inspiration and an incitement.

Take this nomadic tribe of prospec tors, for instance. The typical prospector is a man who has spent perhaps the most of his life pursuing hope that has never been realized. Ye we never find them discouraged. never know them to end their days in despair. No matter how many their years of failure may be they will tell you that just beyond the next chain of hills or in the heart of a still unexplored desert the treasures they seek re surely awaiting them.

A most sincere and persistent man is the prospector. He believes in his quest and respects it. The little or the much that he wins by spasmodi toil he invests in his dreams. braves the solitudes and the lonely wastes of the world to reach the goal for which he strives. Hunger, thirst and other hardships and sufferings he endures with a willing heart.

And he never despairs. That's the glory of the prospector—he never despairs.

The average man, hedged in by the traditions of towns and cities or settled in the humdrum of the country ourselves going again to the old chair to have the knots untied. When grief looks upon the prospector as a queer and somewhat demented individual We laugh at this strange fellow who is pictured to us as plodding along in the wildernesses and the sandy desocomes we run to tell it there. When we fail, when we win, our thoughts take us to the old chair. And at night lations with his pack and his burro, following the will-o'-the-wisps of for-

> But the prospector is only doing in his way what we are doing in ours. We are following each our own dream as the prospector is following his.

The only difference is that we pro ceed in safety and without adventure Otherwise we are the same as the wanderer of the desert and the hills And also we are soon discouraged and we are easy prey to defeat, while it is death alone that can defeat the prospector.

It seems to us that of all the mis-fortunes there are in life—and heaven knows there are many-the misfor tune of hopelessness is the wors said a poet. It was a true thing to say.

And about this wonderful thing of hope there is another way to look at it and that is that we should always have at least one hope ahead. That is to say, we should always have some thing that we look forward to. Then if what we have in hand fails us, the other thing that we look forward to will stay us.

Hope is something to be busy with

It is something of which we should accumulate a store. Always have plenty of hopes and have them se tha they will reach out and last away into years of the future.

There is really something mysterious about a hope. If you will cherish it faithfully and keep it warm in your heart you will be almost sure to some time realize it. It is said that we are perhaps we might better say that we are what our hopes are.
Since then a long-cherished hope i most likely to be realized, surely it were foolish of us to harbor hopes that will not bring us comfort and joy. Hope for the best there is—not great riches, not any material possession but peace for the heart and a serene path for the white years of old age

GREAT EVENT FOR MOSLEMS ON LOFTY ARARAT

Seautiful Mountain Is a Long-Extinct Volcano.

It Has Been Scaled, and, Contrary to Tradition, No Proof That Noah's Ark Ever Landed There Could Be Discovered,

The recent appeal made by the newly established republic of Ararat for recognition by the United States will be better understood, at least geothe region in question I: a province of Armenia.

tain on which the ark made a land-ing after the flood-Ararat meaning oah's mountain.

The whole world, according to the Bible story, was submerged during the period of the Deluge and Ararat's topmost peak was the first dry land to appear above the waters, for the sim-ple reason that it was the loftiestin Armenia, at all events.

As viewed today it gives a notion the depth of the flood, inasmuch as the peak is more than three miles above sea level. It is dome-snaped, and its slopes for 9,000 feet from the top are covered with everlasting snow and great fields of glittering ice.

The climb down must have been rather difficult for Noah, his family and all the animals disembarked from the ark. As for an ascent to the top, it was formerly believed to be im-possible. The Armenian monks de-clared that remains of the Noachian bark still existed on the summit, and that by reason of their sanctity a su-pernatural influence forbade approach.

Nevertheless, in September, 1829, a bold climber, Dr. Johann Parrot, succeeded in reaching the top of and on coming down stated that he had found not even the keel of the ark up there. Since then the feat has been repeated by several other adventurous persons.

Ararat comes pretty near to being the most beautiful mountain in the world. It is a long-extinct volcano, standing almost isolated save for a lesser peak, called Little Ararat, which (really part of it) is a cone of exqui-site symmetry—an ideal volcano of a type plainly recognizable as an ashpile formed about an eruptive chim-

the Garden of Eden, according to Armenian tradition. At Marsand, in that neighborhood, was (so say the monks) the burial place of Noah's wife. At Arguri, a village near a great chasm that runs into the heart of the mountain, Noah planted the first vineyard.

The first of more than a hundred treaties wrung from Turkey by which the porte promised protection to the Christians within the boundaries of the Ottoman empire, was signed 145 years ago, at the instance of Russia. Not one of these hundred promises has ever been kept—which is sufficiently indicated by the fact that all the treaties cover practically the same points. Every time the European powers saved Turkey from dismemberment, reigning sultan in his gratitude, solemnly promised that he would grant his Christian subjects in European Turkey liberty and equality before the law with Moslems. After France and England, at the tremendous cost of the Crimean war, had saved the Turks from the Russians, the sultan issued the famous Hattihumatoun of Febru-ary 18, 1856, in which he swore by the beard of the prophet to give Christians full equality. The promise, like so many others, was but a "scrap of pa-Abdul Hamid on his ascension per." Abdul Hamid on his ascension to the throne, declared that he would make "no distinction of creed" and posed as the protector of the Christians and Jews, of whom probably more than a million were slain during

The naval communication service is perfecting a new and important invention called a "radio-compass."

To illustrate its use: A ship, let us say, is 200 miles out at sea. Owing to persistent bad weather, her navigating officer has not been able for many days to get a sight of the sun. He has lost his bearings, and can only guess at his latitude and longitude.
But he has on board a radio-comps

-an instrument otherwise called a rection-finder." His wireless outfit enables him to receive messages from shore stations. The radio-compass gives him the directions of the stations from which these messages come.

Thus he can locate the position of the ship with exactness, and the problem of navigation is safely solved.

Their Surprising Way

'I was never more disappointed in anybody in my life than I was in my cousins up to Kay See," admitted Gabe Gosnell of Grudge, who was just back from a visit to the Big Burg. "Why. with everything on earth going on and anything you could think of liable to appen at any moment, I'll be switched if they don't poke off to bed at be-tween 9 and 10 o'clock every night of the world!"-Kansas City Star.

Animals in War Service.

It was a typical school boy game, good ball being mixed with atrocious plays, but as Newton won, 5 to 4, the errors were forgiven, and only the good playing remembered.

Newton High made all its runs in one inning, while Boston College made two runs in each of two innings, neither of these runs being earned. Pitchers Sawyer of Newton and Cassell of Boston College were about equally effective, and played extremely well.

SILKS OF GORGEOUS COLOR

Huguenot Collection Exhibited in New York Declared to Be a Marvel of Preservation.

What is perhaps the most wonder ful exhibition of old French silks in the world is to be seen in the library of the International Buyers' club at 130 West Forty-second street, New York, says Scientific American. The col-lection comprises more than 700 specimens of silk manufactured by the descendants of the Huguenots who settled in Spitalfields and Bethnal Green, London, after the revocation of the edict of Nantes in 1685. It has lately come into possession of the International Buyers' club and is said to be the most valuable of its kind in the

The fabrics of the collection are as durable and the colors as brilliant as if they were turned from the looms yesterday. The disintegration of the silk fabric that one sometimes sees in Chinese mandarin coats has not taken ace. Indeeed, the old French silk orkers did not develop their art from the ancient Chinese, who jealously guarded the secrets of their craft. The silk industry was originated in the western world by two Persian monks who had resided in China and who in about 550 brought to Constantinople the eggs of the silk worm in a hollow bamboo tube. From these contents developed the silk industry of Europe.

There is an elusive delicacy about French silks that quite defies description. Many of the French patterns are quite up to date and are said to be in line for any revival of styles. This is particularly true of the tiny patterns in checks, blue, red, green and brown in fields of white silk, all of which are adapted to cravats. The gorgeous colors are shown in the silks of upholsteries; the most delicate and evanescent in those evidently intended for women's apparel or draperies. Wonderful dyes the French weavers used, vegetable dyes that increase their beauty as the years go by. Gold pure yellow, brilliant gold, is shown: white, ivory; flesh, coral, turquoise, ap ricot, ocean green, ashes of rose, chartreuse, honey, maple, geranium, scarlet, cardinal, garnet and a thousand other tints that would be hard to match today even when we have 323 shades of navy blue alone.

silks in this collection, some of which are hundreds of years old, suggest that with reasonable care they are proof against disintegration of the ages. There is not a cracked, worn or thin sample among them. The brilliance of their dyes, some of whose formulas are at present lost to the world, is idence that the world may never forced to be completely dependent upon any one nation for its dves and dyeing fabrics reveals the varied fu ture that may be revived under the

PLANT HOME GARDENS.

When Made a Family Affair They Yield Good Returns and Provide Money for Investment.

Home gardens are needed as much this year as last for their contribution to the world's food supply, says Rufus W. Stimson, agent in charge of agricultural education for the State Board of Education of Massachusetts. In addition, he points out they should be made to assist materially in the purchase of Thrift and War Savings Stamps. Thus the gardens will serve in a four-fold capacity. On the pa-triotic side they will help feed the triotic side they will help feed the world, and they will put money at the disposal of the United States Government with which to carry out its world policies and ideals as well as meet the obligations imposed by the war. the other side, they will provide the family table with an abundance of fresh vegetables and fruits, and they will enable the family to make financial investments that will bring good and sure returns.

Mr. Stimson thoroughly believes in the home garden. He would make it a family affair, parents and children working in partnership in the gardening enterprise. He has no sympathy with any plan which arrays the child against the parent, as is done by programs which call upon the boy to show ow much he can outdo his father.

Where parents and children work together the waste that occurs when the children alone have the garden is eliminated. Children often weary of a thing and drop it. When a garden is neglected there is waste of labor, material and money. But when their elders are interested, the children are steadied, neglect is prevented, and the garden enterprise is carried through to the harvest.

Whether for home consumption or rublic sale the fruits of the garden should put money in the purse and open a productive channel for the purchase of War Savings Stamps

INDUSTRY AND THRIFT.

Prof. Carver Tells How Prosperity Will Come.

"The two great programs for pros perity for all times," said Professor Carver of Harvard, who is deeply interested in the educational side of the War Savings Committee, "are indus-try and thrift. We must reduce the We must reduce the ess. We must reduce amount of idleness. the amount of extravagance. lay it down as an absolutely universal proposition that wherever production exceeds consumption, and in proportion as production exceeds consumption, there is progress. Wherever consumption exceeds there is retrogression. By consumption, understand, I mean using mate rial things for personal gratification. In a sense, but incorrectly, one is said it in an engine to produce steam is being used up, it is true, but it is being used productively. In propor-tion as it is used in such ways, we have more goods rather than less. But using an excess of coal in keeping too many rooms warm, or keeping them too warm, is luxurious consumption. Nothing comes of it; you have nothing to show for it afterward.

"How can we possibly consume more than we produce? The answer to that is very simple. If we slow down our building operations so that we do not keep up with the deterioration of the old buildings, we have used up more buildings than we have built in a given year. The rate of consumption exceeds the rate of production. You can apply that rule, not simply to building, but to the making of machines and tools. If we use so much of our man-power producing things that are used for immediate gratification, and spend so little energy for durable construction as not to replace the destruction of those durable things, we have retrogression, things are going down. That, I believe, is an absolute and universal principle, always and everywhere operative.

That principle must be applied here and now, where there is so much rebuilding to be done. In war, it is not expected that production can keep up with destruction or deterioration. It is quite possible, also, that production should fall behind deterioration in time of peace, but this could happen only in a thriftless community. It is thrift that durable construction keeps up with or exceeds deteriora-tion and destruction. It is by using money and man-power for permanent or future needs and not by using it all for the temporary needs of the immediate present.

"Getting Your Goat"

Just now the phrase "Getting your goat" is not slang, however apparent may be the resemblance. It is rather a subject for consideration by subur-ban dwellers, in connection with the milk situation. Because of the high cost of grain, and scarcity of labor, some farmers are disposing of their herds, and the constantly soaring prices of milk and milk products are a source of much anxiety. Growing children need milk, but under present conditions many are unable to get it, and when they are so fortunate, it is often of so poor quality as to have but little food value.

FIREWORKS

is bred into the American people to think of fireworks as part and parcel of the festivities of July 4th. And no celebration of the Glorious Fourth—more glorious this year than ever—is regarded as quite complete without a close-up view of a 'pyrotechnic performance as a night-cap. Bear in mind the City of Boston will have no fireworks this year on ence if you would see a good display—and all will admit there are none better—don't fail to go out to Braves Field where a display will be given, even better than ever before. All manner of beautiful set pieces with aerial beauties mixed in. See the best show ever given, and see it in comfort from a grandstand chair. It will cost but 55 cents, or if you want reserved box seats at 85 cents drop around to Wright & Ditson's drop around to Wright & Ditson's and get them early. The fireworks start at 9 o'clock with a big band concert beginning at 7.45.
